A new $950,000 home for the aged will be built on Eagle St. west of Armitage Heights in Newmarket. It was announced last night by County Commissioner Reeve Oliver Crookford of Scarborough. The home will accommodate 200 persons and architects are already at work on the plans.

The new home will be built on the site where Newmarket council had earlier discussed establishing a low rental housing subdivision. A few years ago, and addition to the present home at the corner of Yonge and Eagle Sts. was discussed and plans drawn but this proposal was discarded because of the lay of the land.

A special committee, headed by Reeve Henry Ogden, Stouffville, will report to County Council in November on the plans.

Workmen may begin building the home in May, 1953.

When it opens, possibly in the summer of 1955, the home will be filled to capacity immediately, said Mr. Crookford.

The county may retain the old home which accommodates 94 men and women to take care of any overflow.

The present home is filled. Municipalities have to board out elderly persons in private nursing homes, said Mrs. Dorothy Hague, Swansea's deputy-reeve who is on the special committee. "This is costing too much money," said Mrs. Hague.

It will be similar to the one story Halton County home, built at a cost of $750,000.

N. GWILL. SPORT DAY ON SATURDAY

North Gwillimbury is holding its Sports Day on Saturday when a pageant and parade will start the festivities at 1 p.m., to be followed by a program of races for children, a softball tournament, horse-shoe pitching contest and tug o' war.

There will be prizes for those entering the parade with the best decorated float, car, bicycle, tricycle, doll carriage and pet. Later on there will be a lucky draw of a variety of electric appliances.

In the evening, there will be bingo and games with dancing to Bob McCaw's orchestra.

The sports day will be held on the grounds behind the new rink.

THREE BREAK-INS ON GORHAM ST., ONLY CASH TAKEN

Three break-ins were reported along Gorham St. between 9 and 10:30 on Saturday night. Total loss reported exceeded $275. The homes broken into were those of Stuart Perrin from which $250 was stolen; J. S. Arnold, from which $25 was stolen; and Bert Player. The latter was on holidays at the time and police were unable to check the amount of the loss.

In every case, only cash was stolen. The thief or thieves ignored valuable jewellery and other objects. Entrance was made by forcing screens on ground floor windows.

Police believe there is a connection between these thefts and the thefts along Lake Simcoe shore, as well as the earlier break-ins reported in the V.I.A. sub-division.

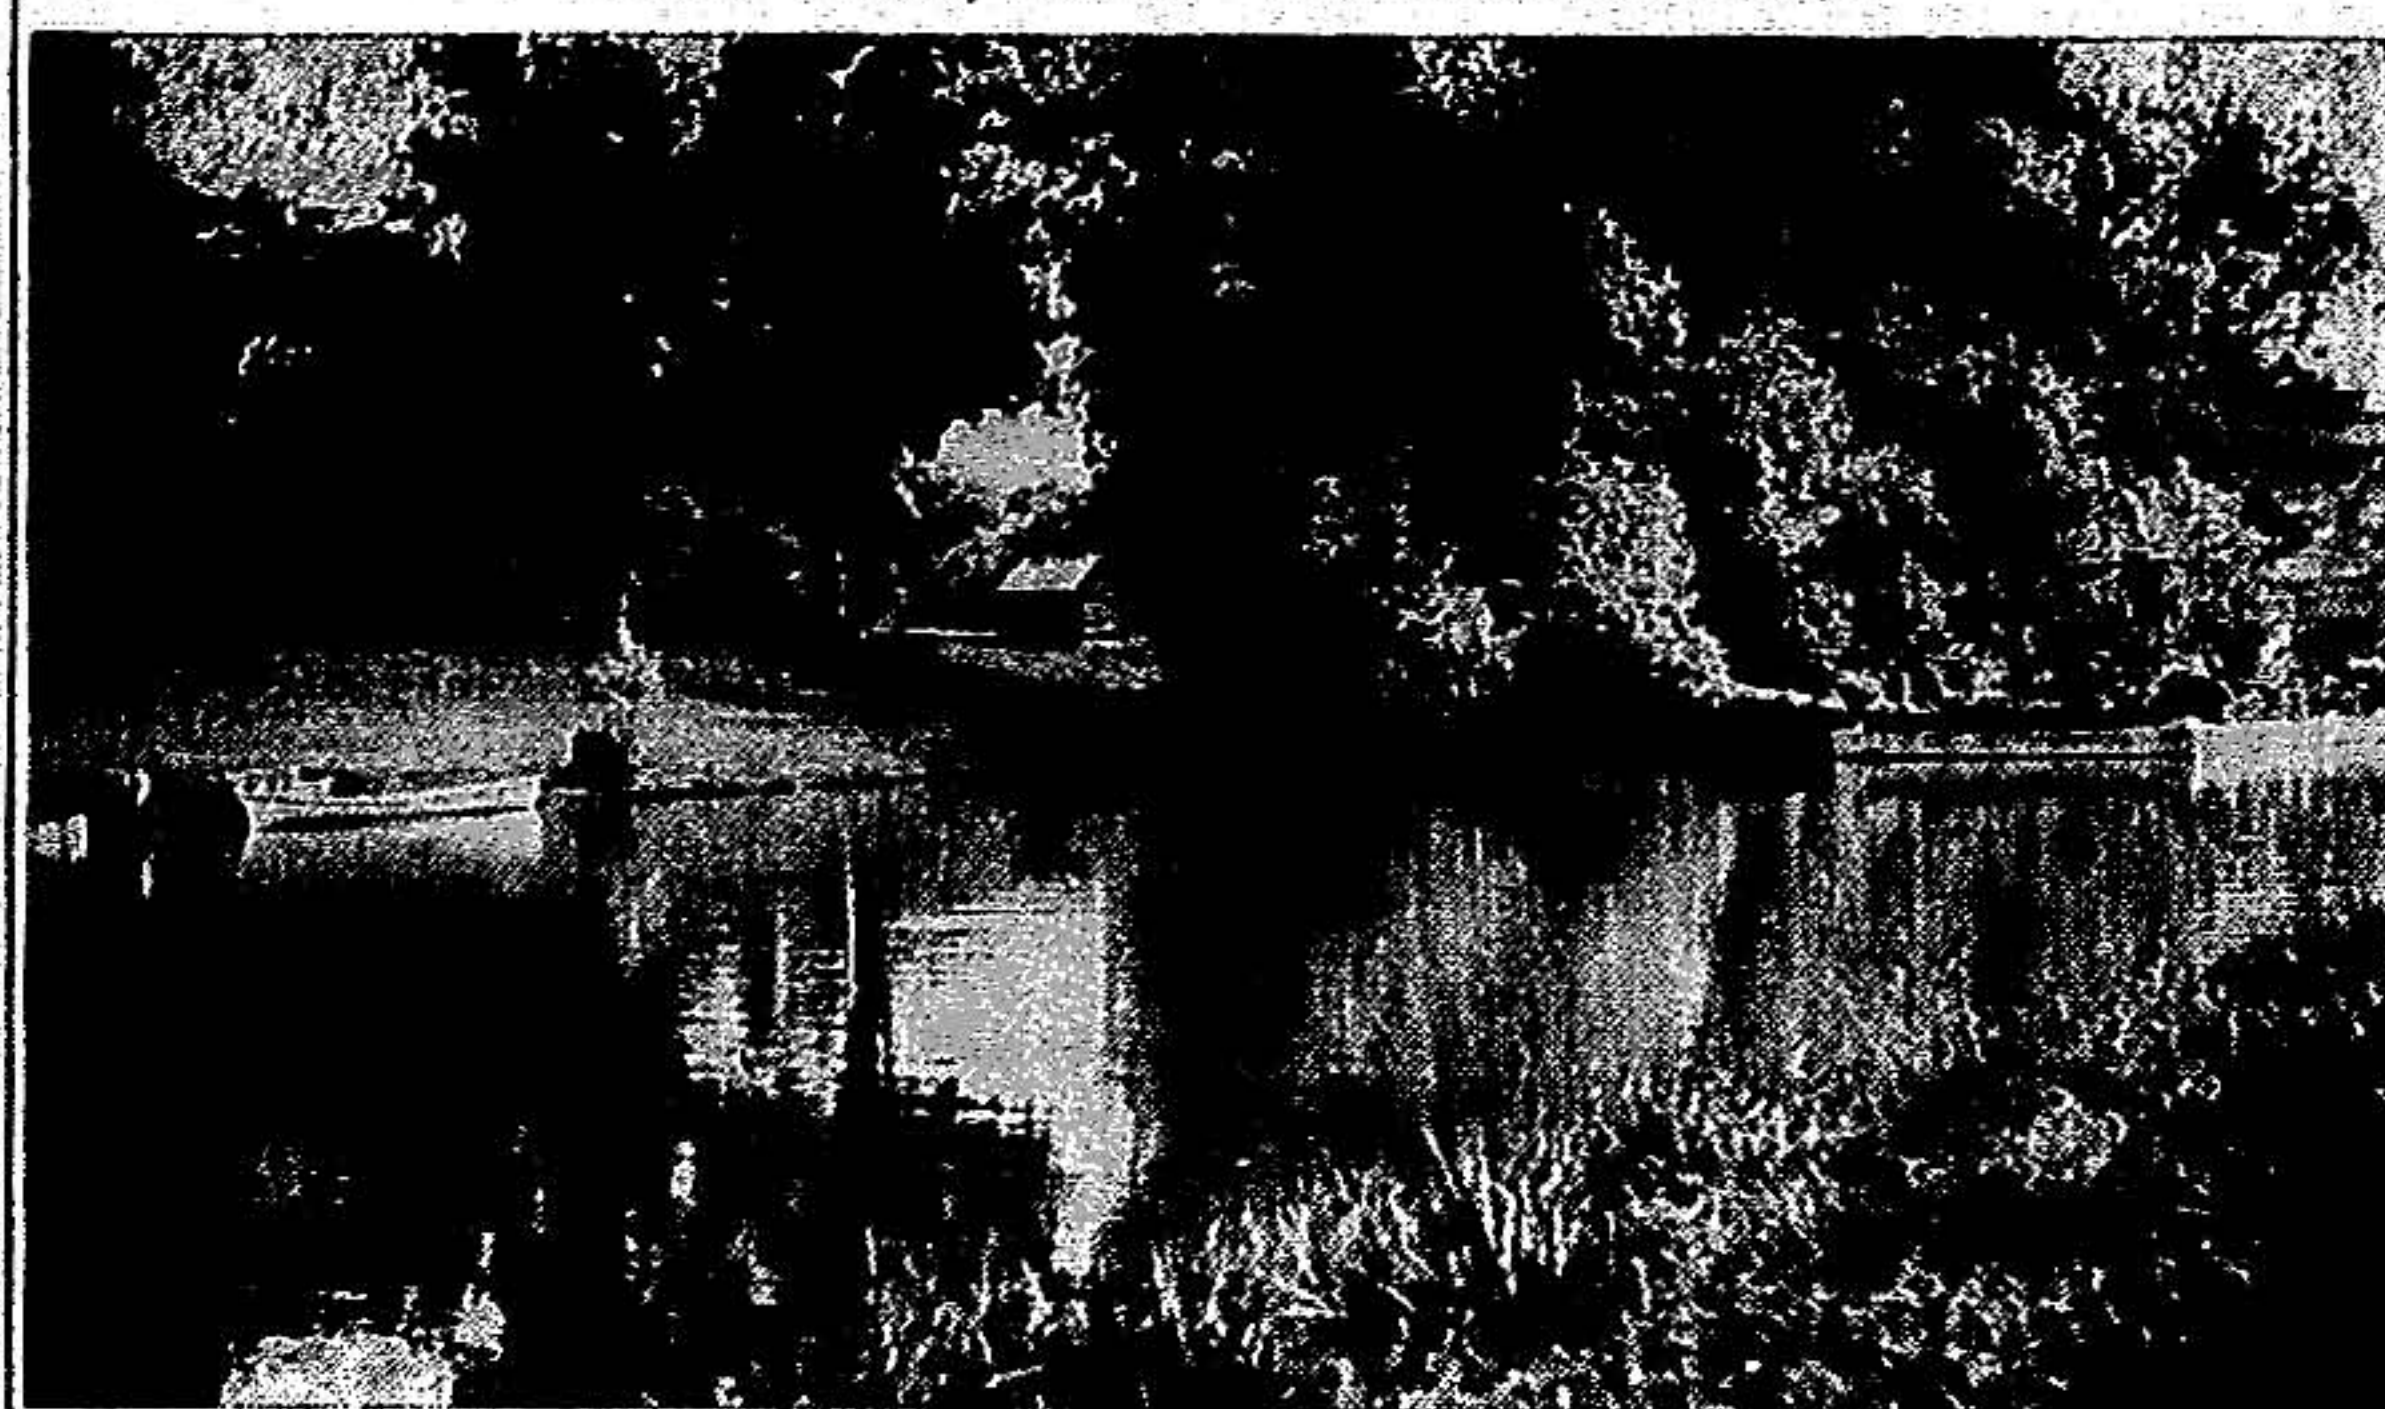

Newmarket Has Happy Memories Winnipegger Returns To Visit

W. H. Wallace spent only six years in Newmarket as a boy but the memory of those years is a happy one and when he has the opportunity, he likes to return to Newmarket and look up his good friend, Ted Bolton. Mr. Wallace is now in Winnipeg where he is in retirement. He was in Newmarket from 1884 to 1890.

"The biggest single change I see in Newmarket is that the homes seem so much more substantial than they were in my day," he says. He is impressed by the growth of the town, but as he remembers it, Newmarket's homes in those days had neither the appearance nor the solidity that they seem to possess today.

Mr. Wallace, who is in his eighties, worked for John Stalard, the butcher, from the time he was 12 years old until he left at the age of 18. From Newmarket, he went to Belle Ewart for three years and then to Toronto for 15 years. He went from there to Winnipeg where for 29 years, he held the same

FAIRY LAKE, AS IT WAS AND AS IT IS

A post card view, taken of Fairy Lake in 1910, is reproduced above, while below is a picture taken from approximately the same spot this week. The two pictures show the deterioration of the lake from pre-first war days when it was a beauty spot and used for boating and swimming, to its present muddy and useless condition. The pictures were taken from the south-east bank towards the lawn of the home now owned by Piers Caradonna. The little log cabin on the lawn is easily recognized.

What's The Answer?

Fairy Lake could be restored again to the beauty and utility it possessed in 1910 if there were the will and the energy in Newmarket to undertake the task. All that is required is the leadership, either through the council or through a service club; even a representative committee.

It would not be an easy undertaking nor could it be accomplished in a short time. But once the start was made, we are certain that progress would be relatively smooth and relatively swift. The result would be a source of public pride, a beauty spot, and even the answer to the oft-debated question of a swimming pool.

The Upper Holland River Conservation Authority has begun the immense job of policing the banks of the river. It will take time before the efforts of the authority show fruit but in time, the flow of water will be improved and its purity assured.

With this initial step taken, it remains only for Newmarket to plan the protection of the banks, and take steps to put the pond to use.

How about it? Do we leave the pond to its present state, one which is neither credit nor value to the town, or do we restore to beauty a natural resource from which we can all benefit? Surely the answer is "yes".

ON HONEYMOON BRIDE IN HOSPITAL AFTER ACCIDENT

Mr. and Mrs. George Montgomery had planned to be away on their honeymoon at this time, but Mrs. Montgomery is still in York County hospital where she was rushed following an automobile accident on Yonge St. just after the happy couple had started off on their honeymoon trip.

Mrs. Montgomery, the former Edith Trulove of Second St., Newmarket, suffered cuts about the face. Her husband received minor injuries.

The young couple's car, liberally painted with wedding slogans, had been hit head-on by another car on No. 11 Highway a few miles south of the Newmarket turn-off.

Provincial Constable Bob Clark said the driver of the other car, Charles Barker, of Rosecliffe Ave., Toronto, has been charged with careless and dangerous driving.

The couple were married Saturday afternoon at Newmarket United church, later attending a reception at the home of the bride's parents here. They left shortly after 10 p.m. for an overnight stop in Toronto before proceeding on a Northern Ontario honeymoon. Later they planned to live with Montgomery's parents on Whitley Ave., North York.

12,000 AT FAIR

The Newmarket Trade Fair drew well over 12,000 spectators during its four-day run in the Newmarket arena. "We are very pleased with the support there was for the fair," said R. C. Morrison, chairman of the fair committee.

"We are most appreciative of the manner in which the fair went off." He thanked all those who had participated in what he called "a complete success".

Call For Ballot On Sept. 22 On Rebuilding Of Main St., To Fill Deputy Reeve's Chair

Newmarket rate-payers will go to the polls on Monday, Sept. 22. They will have two ballots to mark: their choice of candidates for the deputy reeve's office, left vacant by the death of J. L. Spillette; and their answer to the question of rebuilding Main St.

The decision to take the vote was made at a special council meeting on Monday morning when council voted 4-3 in favor of a vote on the question of Main St. A vote to fill the deputy reeve's chair is mandatory and it was decided to hold both ballots on the same day.

The decision to have a vote on Main St. follows a summer-long debate in council. The decision to act was brought to a head by a request from the Toronto and York Road Commission, which shares the cost, for an immediate indication of whether Newmarket would accept the proposal for the Main St. work.

Another factor in the decision of council was Toronto Mayor Lamport's weekend denunciation of the commission. Toronto shares with York County the cost of maintaining certain roads in the county, including Main St. Mayor Lamport urged an end to this expenditure by the city.

County Money Available

The question of rebuilding Main St. arose when this year, the Toronto and York Road Commission agreed to budget for its share of the Main St. work preparatory to handing over the maintenance of the road to the municipality. Under the present arrangement, the commission is responsible for the upkeep of the centre 22' and Newmarket for the roadways and gutters.

The proposal was that the commission rebuild its part of the road and then turn it over to Newmarket. Total cost of the

BROTHERS TOGETHER AFTER SEPARATION OF 45 YEARS

Brothers who had not seen each other for 45 years were reunited recently when James M. Benton of Essex, England, was met by David Benton of Queensville when the former's ship docked at Montreal recently.

David Benton came to Canada in June of 1907 at the age of 14. His brother is 77. They had not seen each other since David's departure for Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Benton motored to Montreal with friends, Mr. and Mrs. H. Wardell, to greet the visitor and since then, they have shown him many Canadian sights. Of them all, he was most impressed by Niagara Falls.

CUBS RESUME

Group A Cub pack in Newmarket will hold its first meeting of the 1952-53 season on Tuesday, Aug. 26. Boys wishing to join the pack must be eight years old and may start at this initial meeting. Meetings are regularly held the first Tuesday of each month in the Scout Hall.

Monday morning, Reeve Arthur Evans placed before council a motion urging that the Main St. work be undertaken. It was ruled that the motion implied immediate action without consulting the rate-payers. An amendment was proposed which asked that the question be put to a public vote. The amendment carried with Councillors Jos. Dales, Charles Boyd, Mrs. MacNaughton and Rudy Renzius favoring it. Reeve Arthur Evans and councillors Charles VanZant and Lorne Paynter opposed it. Mayor Vale, although he did not cast a vote, has made no secret of his approval of a public vote. Question To Be Voted On

The question to be put to the ratepayers on Sept. 22 is: "Provided the Toronto and York Roads Commission (York County) paves the centre 22', are you in favor of the council undertaking the rebuilding of the balance of Main St. at an estimated cost to the town of Newmarket of $105,000, and the issuing of debentures therefor?"

It was pointed out that if the public vote down the project, no work will be done on Main St. Although the roads commission is prepared to do its 22' in the centre, the work must be done at the same time as the work done on the town's share of the road and if the town does not do its share, the roads commission cannot do its 22'.

Two Councillors Enter Deputy Reeve Race

At least two members of Newmarket council have cast their hats into the ring in the forthcoming election of a deputy-reeve. Councillors Lorne Paynter and Joseph Dales have both stated they will run. There are rumors of other candidates outside of council but so far, the rumors have not been confirmed.

Councillor Charles VanZant is strongly rumored as a third contender for the deputy-reeveship but he could not be reached for comment. The election brought up the question of whether a member of council had to resign from council before he entered his candidacy for deputy-reeve. The department of municipal affairs ruled that he did, but after objection from the town solicitor, K. M. R. Stiver, reconsidered the question and then ruled he didn't.

FIREMEN IN NEW HOME

Members of the Newmarket fire brigade put their trucks into the new firehall at the corner of Main and Millard Ave. on Friday night at 5:30. The second floor of the building is not yet finished, but the firemen are satisfied that the ground floor is ready and hurried their two trucks into the building without waiting for the formal opening which will be held at a later date. From left to right are Councillor Lorne Paynter, chairman of the fire committee and the building committee, Art Ainsley, Seneca Cook, John Gibson, Chief Jimmy Coltham, Councillors Charles Boyd and Jos. Dales, members of the building committee. On the truck are Frank Prest and Joe Scott. The firemen had their first call from their new quarters on Saturday morning to Davis Dr. but it was a small fire and out by the time they arrived.

The business is an expansion of the Richmond Hill store.

The building will house both drycleaning plant and retail store. The whole process of drycleaning will be done at Oak Ridges, eliminating use of Reid's Weston plant. Of modern construction, the building is 60 by 30 feet with an apartment on the second floor. Costing approximately $15,000 exclusive of machinery, it will serve as headquarters. Mr. Reid will continue to operate his store at the Hill.

The new plant will require a staff of 12. Mr. Reid has had four years' experience in the work, and was advised by his brother of the Weston plant to go in business for himself. Correction

A remark made by a King City village trustee concerning water-main extension west from Keele St. was incorrectly printed in last week's issue of the Era and Express. "This extension will not now be considered a village expense", is the way it should have read.

King Library Active

A good library is an asset to any community. King Memorial Library can boast this quality and offer service to old and new residents of the district every Wednesday afternoon and evening. The library board has set a high standard of books for public reading and is anxious to increase membership and circulation.

The 1951 government grant was $127.27, when the library had the largest number of paid members. The present membership is slightly over 70. The amount of the 1952 grant will depend on membership fees, the township grant and circulation. The adult fee is 50 cents a year and children are not required to pay.

The selection committee has recently chosen a number of new books, the second selection this year. In the small building on Doctors Lane in Memorial Park will be found the choice of many readers.

Some of these are: How People Lived, and the Past Presented, historical works; Canada, the Golden Hinge by Leslie Roberts, History of Ontario by M. Avison; Around the Bend, by Shute; Man of the Family, biographical; The Gown of Glory, by Agnes Turnbull, a fiction favorite; Exploration of Space, for those who like science.

A number of children's books are to be on their special book shelves. It is interesting to note that from 30 to 35 young children are regular Wednesday afternoon borrowers. Ruth Wilson, young librarian, makes a good selection for the children. Dianne Glass, aged four, and Sheila Bell, 6, never miss visiting the library and are proud as punch when they bring in their books for exchange.

Grandson Of Local Plow Maker
Starts New Career As Silo Builder

The following article in the Kitchener-Waterloo Record will recall former days for Newmarket's old timers. It concerns J. A. C. "Cam" Allan whose grandfather used to make Allan plows on Timothy St. beyond where the Arctic Lockers are now located. Grandfather Allan's son, J. A. W. Allan, went into the hardware business where Smith's Hardware is now located. He was colonel of the 12th York Rangers and went overseas in the first great war as colonel in the 20th Battalion. "Cam" Allan was born and raised in the home at the corner of Park and Church Sts. The following article tells something of Mr. Allan's life since he left Newmarket.

By John T. Schmidt

Although they became popular in the United States during and before the First World War, cement block silos never really hit their stride on Ontario farms until the last half-dozen years. Kitchener has become the main centre in western Ontario for their manufacture. To learn about this story we invited J. A. C. Allan, who owns and operates the Kitchener Silo Company on No. 7 highway on the western outskirts of the city.

The first thing we wanted confirmed was whether they could put up one of these silos in 11 days. A farmer told us he had heard this could be done and we thought he was just kidding. "Yes," said Mr. Allan, "two men with the help of two farmers can easily do it in that time. In fact, if the erector gets an 8 a.m. start, they can often put one up in a day."

Rowe Brothers of Campbellford in the Peterborough district were among the first manufacturers of this type of silo in the province. Mr. Allan had formerly owned a hardware store in that town. One day during the recent war he had made a quick sale to a Campbellford native who had come into a quarter-million bucks in a mining deal. Having time on his hands, he began travelling around with the Rowe's who were demonstrating the silos at International Plowing Matches. He was struck by the fact many inquiries were coming from western Ontario.

After investigating their manufacture in the United States, he decided he would invest in such a venture. "I got the manufacturing bug from my grandfather," he said. He used to make the old Allan plow in Newmarket. Maybe some of the farmers hereabouts have plowed with them. His father, however, did not follow up in the plow business. He went into the hardware business in Newmarket. Just about the time Mr. Allan was ready to take hold of the business the First World War broke out.

Things were too slow on the ground for him in that show so he joined the Royal Flying Corps and went to Texas to train in 1916 and began to live dangerously. So dangerously, in fact, that "the old man never thought I would come out alive and sold the hardware business." When he returned from the service he did a number of jobs which he didn't like. With assistance from his father, he bought a hardware store in Havelock, then another chance buy took him to Campbellford. When he got out of a successful career as hardware merchant, he owned several more stores.

Mr. Allan found from inquiring in the United States that building cement block silos was a good proposition. A large percentage of American farmers preferred them to the monolith or solid silos seen on the Canadian farm scene. For one thing, they may be dismantled and sold at an auction sale. Once you put up a solid silo, it stays there forever or usually needs a charge of dynamite to remove it. It has been proven time and again a cement block silo will come through a barn fire intact because the hoops expand with the heat and the whole silo cools at the same rate. A monolith expands only on one side and usually cracks.

He made his silo equipment in Campbellford but not wishing to go into opposition to his friends and remembering the inquiries from western Ontario, he set out to look for a location to bring the machinery. He looked all over Brantford, Galt, London, Ont., Guelph and Kitchener. He was just about going to give up in Kitchener when it was suggested he try to buy the old Moser barn on the highway. He bought the big red barn and set up shop in 1949. Today he says of the location, "It couldn't be beaten; it is right in the centre of the whole farming business area of western Ontario."

The blocks for the silo are expertly machined to fit together tight. They are about 30 inches long and 12 inches wide and about two inches thick. They fit together in a circle and are bound by steel hoops. A doorway is allowed the full height of the silo with cement strips at intervals being used for steps. A set of steel rungs on the outside allows the farmer to climb up to fasten the ensilage cutter pipes. A patent American aluminum top is available.

Only a few of this type have been sold in the county. Most sales are 100 miles away. But neighbors Elmer and Jacob Brubacher, R.R. 4, Kitchener, built one in which they have put grass silage this year and report they like it very much. "I saw silos like this built in the United States in 1905. They are still in good shape and will look good in 2000," claimed Mr. Allan. He added 45 of the 103 they had contracted to build this season were for grass silage. "I think we will see a lot more silos on the Ontario landscape when farmers realize that grassland farming is the coming thing," he predicted.

Mrs. Gladys Mitchell dropped a souvenir of old Newmarket into the office the other day. It is a card upon which is printed a large heart enclosing a happily embracing couple and with the inscription: "Hearts are Trumps". Set beneath the heart, in a folded strip, are a number of pictures of Newmarket, taken, we would guess, in the first decade of this century.

There are pictures of the Methodist, Christian and Catholic churches, the old high school, Fairy Lake, Alex. Muir school, the Grand Trunk Railway station with Davis Leather in the background, the United Factories building (present Dixon Pencil factory), the Office Specialty plant, Main St., and a couple of "bird's eye" views of Newmarket.

We find it remarkable that the card was printed in Great Britain by the firm of Valentine and Sons whose offices were to be found in Dundee and London.

We were the guests a week ago Monday at the Massey-Harris farm near Milliken where we were taken on a tour of the grounds and shown a demonstration of the tests to which the Massey-Harris implements are subjected.

The farm covers an area of 640 acres of gradually rolling land, mostly Milken loam. It was set up in June, 1950, when the firm completed the purchase of nine farms or parts of farms and consolidated them into one.

Wheat was sown on 110 acres, husking corn on 50 acres, spring grain, 180 acres, peas, 20 acres, hay and pasture, 175 acres, silage corn, 20 acres, summer fallow, 10 acres, and woodlot, 35 acres. Ajax oats, Cornell 595 wheat and Montcalm barley are grown.

There is a Holstein herd of 100 animals and a shorthorn herd is being established. There are some pedigree Suffolk sheep.

At the rear of the farm is an engineering test track where farm implements are tested on steep hills, rough ground and artificial mud and dust basins.

We were taken on tour of the farm in waggons similar to those used at the International plowing matches. We saw all kinds of equipment in use, including machines just now being manufactured for the first time. After the tour, there was a reception on the lawn of the farm home.

We have a couple of pictures on the front page which can be variously described as "then and now" pictures, or "what can be done" pictures, or even "how times have changed" pictures. We mean the 1910 and present day photographs of "Fairy Lake." The picture taken in 1910 represents a scene of pastoral beauty. That of 1952 is a scene of mud and desolation.

A comparison of the two pictures suggests how Fairy Lake could be if it were restored to its original charm and utility. A comparison also suggests how badly we have permitted a beauty spot to deteriorate. We publish these pictures in the hope that they will encourage action in cleaning up the pond. Is there any reason why such a project could not be undertaken? Actually, the first major step has been taken in the formation of the Holland River Conservation Authority. This agency will contribute towards improving the flow of water, beautifying the stream banks, and reducing pollution.

But while this basic work will be undertaken in time, it will depend upon interest in Newmarket whether the pond will be completely restored. The benefits from the Authority are incidental to its main purpose of water conservation. Making Fairy Lake a source of public pride will rest with the energy of public spirited citizens in Newmarket.

It seems like a difficult undertaking. Certainly, it is hardly one to be accomplished overnight. But if a service club were to make the restoration of Fairy Lake a continuing project, it would have little difficulty enlisting public support. All that is needed is an agency for action.

The dead carp which have been lining the eastern shores of Lake Simcoe have caused some concern as some folks fear they will cause typhoid. However, the best authorities say there is no cause for alarm as fish are not typhoid carriers, but anyone using water from the lake for drinking purposes should boil it first.

The laying of the corner stone of the new Presbyterian church at Sutton will take place on Aug. 25. Prominent ministers from Toronto, Beaverton and Uxbridge have been invited to take part.

A chance that may never occur again in a generation is now offered to complete the entire clearance of Fairy Lake from logs and stumps. The Specialty Co. have drained the lake to facilitate improvements to the mill race. There are a few roots below the old floating bridge and many objectionable stumps immediately above the bridge which should be hauled out.

The town electrician has been very busy lately putting in lights and making changes for people installing meters. Much work has been done at Mr. Mulock's farm, also to Mr. Sykes' residence. Changes have been made at Mayor Cane's residence and at Messrs. Whitesell and Bradley's drug store. A meter is being installed in the Methodist church and the wires altered for different switches.

Mr. David Miller, lot 19, 3rd con. East Gwillimbury, reported last Saturday that he had cut straw five feet seven inches long.

A threshing machine broke through the Strigley St. bridge last week. Fortunately the machine was not damaged. However, by the time repairs were completed on the bridge, it was practically a new structure.

Mr. W. G. Hill has bought 16 horses which will be shipped here tomorrow to Assiniboia.

The drug store next to the post office is being renovated throughout and will reopen next Saturday.

THURSDAY, THE TWENTY-FIRST DAY OF AUGUST, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-TWO

PASSING THE BUCK

There is no virtue whatever in the action of the council in ordering a vote to be taken on the question of rebuilding Main St. The majority of members maintain that because the cost is so great (Newmarket's share is $105,000), the public should be consulted. Such an argument is utterly foolish. Those same members of council know that the work must be undertaken sooner or later, regardless of cost. By refusing to make the decision themselves, they have failed to discharge the responsibilities of the office to which they were elected.

Main St. must be rebuilt and this is the most propitious time. The county has laid aside its share of the cost. Unless those funds are used now there exists a strong possibility that Newmarket may lose them. Every year that the work is further delayed means an annual maintenance cost to be paid and that cost for all practical purposes is wasted money. Every year the work is postponed contributes to an increase in the eventual cost.

Against these facts are pending costs of a sewage disposal plant, and any other heavy administrative costs the town many face in the future. These costs will contribute heavily to the tax-rate. The decision to rebuild Main St. rests upon these considerations. By deferring that decision to a vote of the people, council members have said, in effect, they are incapable of making this decision themselves.

Such a revelation, while commendable for its honesty, hardly represents an endorsement of council ability. It is not an inducement to public confidence in council. It is indeed ironical that members of council who favor a public vote believe they are fulfilling the requirements of office when in fact, they are showing themselves unworthy of office.

How wishful is the thinking that maintains that a public vote will solve all issues, that the will of the majority is that touchstone of perfection. How can the average ratepayer cast his ballot with any comprehension of all the questions involved? A decision on Main St. is a highly specialized decision. It requires the measured judgment of members of council who have followed the history of the street, who are familiar with all the implications of a decision one way or another. No number of public meetings to explain the issues, no amount of newspaper space can fully acquaint the public with all the details.

It was to make such decisions that members of council were elected in the first place. The annual election was not so much an endorsement of one policy or another as it was an expression of confidence in the abilities of the candidates to deal with these questions as they arose. And now we are confronted with an admission by a majority of those same candidates that our confidence was misplaced. They are not, after all, capable of making such decisions.

THE THINKING OF COUNCIL

There is some justification for a public vote when a general question of policy has to be decided, or where there is a decision to be made outside the normal bounds of council jurisdiction. The Board of Municipal Affairs has also the right to order a public vote when its hearings indicate that there is widespread disagreement upon a public issue within its jurisdiction.

The rebuilding of Main St. is in none of these categories. It is purely an administrative issue. That a vote should be ordered on it is in part explained by the curious interpretation of the mayor, and some other members of council, of the duties of a municipal administrator.

In a discussion on the subject, recorded in last week's paper, the mayor remarked that "I am arriving at a definite opinion that in practice, if we had to take these (council) decisions to the people, to ask for a vote, taxes would not be as high."

We question the logic of this conclusion. We think that the public, if it had the opportunity to vote on many issues that council itself has avoided, taxes would be far higher and Newmarket would be farther along the road of progress than it is. The implication of the mayor's remark is that the taxpayers of Newmarket would rather pay less and do without subsequent benefits than to enjoy their present benefits, as imperfect as they may sometimes be, at their present cost.

No tax-payer likes the present tax-rate. But we strongly doubt there is a tax-payer who would sacrifice the program of municipal improvements that has been grudgingly initiated by council for the saving they would represent. They might question the details, but we doubt that they would question the total accomplishment.

There is another side of the coin. The mayor's belief in the validity of public votes on major council decisions is but another way of saying that council can move no faster nor no farther than the majority will permit. If indeed this was true, it would be to deny the very stuff which makes for progress. How frequently in history are found instances where the foresight and initiative of the few have prevailed over the opposition of the many to the latter's eventual advantage. Indeed, such instances are the stepping stones of man's development.

The major fault of the present council has been that it has shunned its responsibility of leadership. It has acted only when it was forced to act. At a time when vision was wanted, it has been merely adequate to the day by day administrative needs. And this, we attribute, to the belief apparently shared by the majority of council that the best way is the way of the least opposition.

ROAD SIGN

We are in sympathy with the department of highways policy if limiting the roadside signs on Yonge St. There is nothing so objectionable than the substitution of a sign board for the natural beauty of the roadside. We are out of sympathy with the department, however, when it displays the narrow zeal apparent in its refusal to permit Newmarket to erect a sign board advertising the town.

Newmarket is at once the beneficiary and the victim of its location, a mile or so east of a through highway. It has not the traffic problem to contend with that Richmond Hill or Aurora have, with a through highway as a main street. But by being to one side of the highway, it remains in comparative obscurity. All Yonge St. travellers are familiar with Aurora and Richmond Hill. Surprisingly few can place Newmarket, and the town has lost much as a result.

When Councillor Charles Boyd undertook the erection of a sign on Yonge St. drawing attention to Newmarket, he was told by the department of highways that Yonge St. was a restricted highway and such a sign must be a quarter of a mile off the roadside. At such a distance, it would serve little practical purpose. If the department had prominent signs, Newmarket could reconcile itself to a compromise. But the department signs say nothing except to point the direction of the town.

One purpose of the road sign for Newmarket was to draw attention to the history of the municipality, a history which has certain ties with the homes of many Americans on Yonge St. The government wants to encourage tourists. Tourists want to see historical sites. The department of highways prohibits the advertisement of those sites. It is a foolish situation.

There is no legitimate reason why Newmarket should not have a road sign. A town is being advertised, not a bar of soap. Such a sign is an essential public service.

FIRST THINGS FIRST

The Financial Post had this to say on the closing of one floor in the York County Hospital:

"A 70-bed addition to a hospital in Barrie, Ontario, was opened with considerable fanfare last week. Without any fanfare, a hospital in nearby Newmarket closed one of its two floors temporarily because of a shortage of nurses."

"This incident is interesting because the institutions are close together and the opening and closing were reported on the same day. The important thing is that we have been better at building hospitals than we have been in training staff to serve them."

"Aggravating the problem, we have through various health and medical plans boosted hospital admissions enormously. Undoubtedly, as a result of these various schemes public and voluntary, a lot of people are getting hospital treatment who could not have afforded it before. At the same time there are notably some people who are abusing the privilege, who seek hospital treatment simply because it costs them little directly."

"The people who currently cry for sweeping hospitalization plans run by government should keep this fact in mind. No hospital plan is much good unless it can provide a bed and proper attention when the customer is in need. Right now, the fact is we haven't enough equipment to handle present traffic."

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

The boss talked to me one day about the true democrat. It was a hangover from the mayor's conclusion that we may be getting away from true democracy.

"Soybean, the great philosopher and historian, once described it," the boss pompously. "The true democrat sits in his hand hewn house, getting his heat from a solar lamp on the roof and weaves his own cloth. He tends his own crops according to the phases of the moon. He depends on no one."

"Don't you see that it is no impossible?" shouted the boss. "It is impossible to be perfectly free in this modern civilization."

"We depend on everyone, the power commission, the farmers, the factory workers, storekeepers and garbage collectors. We depend on the government. We are not true democrats."

His fist crashed on his desk for emphasis and there was an embarrassed silence in the office. The staff paused at their work and listened.

"Yes?" I said. "But have you forgotten Slim Bliggen? He is a true democrat, probably the only one of his kind remaining. He depends on no one if he doesn't want to and usually he doesn't."

I am sure Bliggen is a true democrat. He conforms to no custom and if necessary he can subsist without the efforts of his fellow man.

He lives in a shack of his own design, grows vegetables, puts his own wood. Certainly he may accept the advantages of society at times but they are not essential to him. There are months when he makes no social contact whatsoever.

"That shows that he is not a true democrat," said the boss. "At some time or other, he needs society."

Well then, I said, even a trapper all alone in the woods up north depends on a market for his furs.

So it seems to me that a true democrat must be a madman. Even an Eskimo lives on fish and builds his house of ice but he had to have someone to rub noses with. He would go crazy with loneliness.

Yes, the theory of democracy and independence must be based on madness. A man would have to be alone on the top of a mountain where no other man could reach him. For if someone came up and said hello, our democrat would be depending on him for companionship or a pleasant change. Thus our democrat would go raging mad.

"So a true democrat is a madman. That is my conclusion," I told the boss.

"Hah! A communist eh?" Members of the staff turned and stared at me. I could see it in their eyes. I knew what they thought. I had spoke out of turn. The Mounted Police may know about it in the very moment.

Every day the boss eyes me with suspicion. People at Main St. stand and stare. He has got around town.

In fact I received an undated note today which said that if I was critical of the boss, if I liked it so much, and was all just because of a innocent statement, thought or by logic.

There is one thing I am thankful for. I am thankful am not living in the United States of America. There would be examined by a committee of senators or congressmen or other patriots and I would decide what sort of "ist" I was. I might even in jail awaiting trial.

But this is Canada and people aren't quite that bad.

by "Dairy Farmer" The Top Six Inches

We have the milk producers' newsletter at hand, very attractive and nicely dressed up. But as far as we are concerned, it is the same old girl, maybe, with a poodle cut and the new look, and what is more, apparently still written by the same old boy.

It notifies us of the new agreement reached with the distributors. The old agreement was reached with court actions, newspaper headlines and political backroom deals. This one is an improvement in this respect, because it is the result of the most confidential negotiations we have ever heard of. As a matter of fact, the rank and file, and this includes the local directors, hadn't heard about it until it was in force.

This agreement was reached by our duly elected representatives and thus we are all bound by it and if there is any criticism it will have to be directed towards the annual meeting. However, before we point out the weaknesses of this agreement, we would like to say we prefer bargaining to arbitration and we prefer an uninterrupted discussion carried on quietly to the session that went on last year.

Having said this, we add that we have the feeling that the producers have been outfoxed in this new agreement and having concluded it, and let us for a minute take it for granted that it was unavoidable, our leaders certainly do not know how to tell us about it or in other words how to sell it to us.

The negotiations were undertaken at the distributors' request at the time of the year when there was a short flush of milk. This has already scored a point in their favor. The concessions asked for in those days may have seemed small in view of the terrific supply of milk in late May and early June. The agreement has come in effect in August though, when there was and is a real tight supply situation.

The dairies know what their month to month requirements are and our men do not know what the supply is, what it will be and what's more, better know. Neither do they in the number of shippers and whether or not the be are on the increase. We not condemn this ignorance too strongly. These facts have been frightened by about the effect of a cut in export market, all the heifers that didn't go south will be milked here, etc. What did they do to find the true picture? Nothing we know of.

The result? The new agreement calls for a 90 and 10 management when we are on a quota. If the distributors don't know that there is heavy supply of milk in it they would have never insi on it.

In other words, we took in price, amounting to a 10 cents if there is an quota. In return, we something saying that producers shall be taken a regular shippers by agree between the distributor requires additional ship and the Milk Producers' ciation. Since nobody bot to define what regular in this sense, a blind but see that this isn't worth paper it is written on.

Having reached this ament and let us assume it was the best that could done without going to action, the newsletter make effort to tell us the story hind it. Maybe it does hide the ignorance of our rectors about supply and mand. Maybe it is because are happy. May we a them that we aren't.

However, we must say that we have as good a of directors as we deserve as good an organization make it ourselves. If producers in this area know this or didn't believe before, this latest editio the newsletter is bound to vince them.

In the meantime we will tinue to produce milk not with the economic disatages we have endured years but also handicapp the kind of organization have.

IN MEMORIAM

GOODING—In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. A. T. Gooding, who passed away one year ago, Aug. 22, 1951.

You linger in our memories to stay.
Like the rose in all its beauty.
The remembrance of those happy days.
The affection that you gave to us.
When we were all together.
Your kindness and your fragrant love.
Shall be within our hearts forever.
Your weary hours and days of pain.
Your suffering nights are past.
And up within God's outstretched arms.
You have found sweet rest at last.
Sadly missed and ever remembered by Dorothy, Floyd and boys.

GOODING—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. A. T. Gooding, who passed away Aug. 22, 1951.
God watched you in your suffering.
He knew you had your share.
He gently closed your weary eyes.
And took you to His care.
And while you lie in peaceful sleep.
Your memory we will always keep.
Lovingly remembered by Evelyn and Charlie Milsted.

SEDORE—In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Florence Sedore, who passed away Aug. 19, 1940.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Rose Bertrand and family wish to extend sincere thanks to the many friends and neighbors for their kindness and expressions of sympathy during the recent loss of a husband and father.

CARD OF THANKS

More words are inadequate to express our gratitude to each and every one who has helped us through these sad days with beautiful flowers, words of sympathy, and deeds of infinite kindness. We can only say thank you so much. Special thanks are extended to all our neighbors and the Office Specialty.

Mrs. Ross Tomlinson and family.

When I am all alone;
For memory is the only friend
That ever can call its own.
Ever remembered by her daughter, Nellie, son-in-law Tom and family.

SEDORE—In loving memory of a dear mother, Florence Sedore, who passed away Aug. 19, 1940. Remembrance is a golden chain Death tries to break, but all in vain.

To have, to love, and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never—
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
Lovingly remembered by the family.

TANSLEY—In loving memory of a dear husband, Byron Tansley, who passed away Aug. 22, 1945.
I lost a husband with a heart of gold.
Who was more to me than wealth untold.
Without farewell, he fell asleep.
With only memories for me to keep.
I have lost, but God has gained.
One of the best the world contained.
His faintest wish we should Like to have heard.
And breathed in his ear one last parting word.
Only those who have lost are able to tell.
The pain of the heart of not saying farewell;
We mourn him in silence, no eyes see us weep.
But many a silent tear is shed while others sleep.
Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by wife, Matilda Tansley.

Circus Splendor And Color
Found In 'The Greatest Show'

If there were ever any doubts that Cecil B. DeMille is Hollywood's master showman, "The Greatest Show On Earth", a Paramount picture which opens Monday at the Roxy Theatre, should dispel them for all time. In this massive Technicolor circus epic, producer-director DeMille has packed a whirlwind two and a half hours of thrills, chills, melodrama and laughter—every minute of it stamped unmistakably with his special genius.

With an investment of three years' work and more than $4-wood people perform their own stunts. Miss Hutton actually sways precariously from the flying bar high above the arena floor, as does Wilde. And it's Gloria Grahame, not a double, who places her pretty head beneath an elephant's foot.

With much of the footage taken during actual performances of the circus, DeMille was able to stock his drama with many of the great acts that have made the circus such a perennial favorite. DeMille's roving cameras have also brilliantly etched the complex operations involved in setting up the big show, the colorful parades through towns, and the tense fascination of thousands of youngsters and oldsters enthralled by the Big Top doings.

The behind-the-scenes story played against this color-splashed canvas traces a love triangle involving the girl aerialist, her dashing center-ring rival and the circus boss. It also explores the surprising secret hidden behind a clown's gay mask and the bitter conflict between the Elephant Girl and a vengeful animal trainer. This drama, and its exciting resolution, is deftly alternated with the huge panorama of three-ring dangers and delights.

Cornel Wilde and Betty Hutton, not doubles, soar daringly beneath the dome of the Ringling Brothers circus tent in their roles as steely-nerved aerialists in Cecil B. DeMille's "The Greatest Show On Earth". Paramount Technicolor spectacle which is showing at the Roxy Theatre in Newmarket for four days beginning Monday.

"$4,000, the greatest maker of film spectacles has earned a rich dividend resplendent with all the vivid color of the circus, sparkling with the tinselled excitement of its fabulous arena displays, and pulsing with the vigor and movement of the human machine that keeps the Big Top going. But "The Greatest Show On Earth" is more than a compelling portrait of the bold and strange and joyous things on view beneath the circus' canvas roof. It is a sensitive and revealing record of the lives of circus performers and workers—their strength and their pride, their courage, their passions, their failures and their triumphs.

To stage this immense drama, DeMille used the full facilities of the Ringling Bros.-Barnum & Bailey Circus and the services of some of Hollywood's most talented players. Among the stars, Betty Hutton is seen as a daring aerialist; Cornel Wilde plays a romantic and reckless trapeze performer; Charlton Heston portrays the iron-willed circus boss; Dorothy Lamour takes over the role of a sultry hula girl; Gloria Grahame is cast as a come-hither elephant girl; and James Stewart appears as a bulb-nosed circus clown.

Realistic Excitement
In the interests of realistic excitement, DeMille had the Holly-

Canadian's personal income in 1951 was 18 percent higher than in 1950.

King Loses To Nobleton

Rockets Take Diggers 7-4

Time was when nobody could trim the Ditch Diggers. That's all changed. Now everybody is taking them to the cleaners. Tuesday, in an Aurora town league softball contest, DeLaHaye Rockets, using a last of the seventh four-run spurt "dood it" 7-4.

Rocketmen supporters went home acclaiming Ron Simmons and Bobbs Cook as co-heroes. They provided the key blows in the Rockets' winning last of the seventh drive. Cookie opened the pot with a double and Ron Simmons, after Dave Ferguson and John O'Mahoney got aboard, promptly bashed a Mickey Sutton pitch a country mile to score the winning runs.

Diggermen Harold Stephenson, Tracy Barrager, Mickey Sutton and Charlie Sutton bagged extra base blows in the Diggers' six-hit bag against the combined chucking of Buddy Aylett and Doug Richardson. Ron Simmons and Henry Ford socked homers, Alf Childs and John O'Mahoney collected doubles for the winners.

Rocketmen, safely entrenched in third place, now trail the second place Diggers by two games in the closing stages of the league race.

King City and Nobleton opened their best of five glory series for the Peel-York softball league title under the Schomberg lights Tuesday. In a see-saw, extra innings, marathon, Nobleton squeezed out a 15-14 win over the Kingmen. The score was up and down like a yo-yo as hits, runs, walks and errors went at bargain basement rates.

King was first off the mark, hiking its lead to 10-7 with a run in the sixth. Nobleton, however, refused to roll over and play dead down the rest of the route and came roaring back to tie it 13-all at the end of the regulation seven innings stretch.

King bagged a run in the eighth. Nobleton had one trump left. Ken Hoyle played it, a two-run double and that key blow put Nobleton in the winner's circle.

Phil Hobson and Gord. Orr shared the King mound work. Geo. Oldfield and Gord. Broad combined talents for the Nobleton pitching win. Keith Kyle, four for four, Gord. Orr, three for three, Chuck Shields' four safeties and Hank Natale's circuit blast featured the King City slugging. Tom Dobson with three hits and Bill Hoover's grand slam homer sparked Nobleton. Game two in the series is carded for Schomberg next Tuesday at 8 p.m.

February's precious stone is the amethyst, a clear purple, which is the symbol of sincerity.

SEWING, KNITTING, crocheting and embroidery are good indoor sports for winter evenings. Each needlecraft has its own fascination which provides a choice for everyone. Whatever your hobby may be, you'll enjoy having one or more projects on hand to fill your leisure hours while talking to friends or listening to the radio during these cold winter evenings.

Home Accessories
Hand-made articles for the home have always been fashionable. Lace and lace-trimmed dollies add as much beauty and charm to your dining room table today as they did years ago. Simple, plain designs in good looking patterns can be worked easily and give you that wonderful atmosphere of luxury. If you are well stocked in your own linen department, remember the parties and showers ahead for the June bride who really appreciates the much needed little extras to furnish her home. Gay potholders, good linen towels for the kitchen, pretty place mats, bath towels, luncheon sets and dollies all make wonderful and suitable gifts. Many of them can be made from left-over materials and decorated with gay cotton stitches or embroidery. Dollies can be made from small pieces of good linen, decorated with lovely crochet or all crocheted if you prefer.

Attractive Bread Tray Dolly
The bread tray cover pictured here is pretty and practical. Using a bread tray is not old fashioned as some may think, on the contrary it is a much used and necessary item for home entertaining. A pretty dolly enhances the beauty of all silver dishes and is particularly good when used for bread, rolls, cakes and cookies. If you wish to have a leaflet containing directions for making the BREAD TRAY COVER, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper requesting Leaflet No. 7631.

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL.—I want a "Repeat Performance" of the wonderful vacation I had this year. So I'm planning my next year's vacation right now! The most important part of my plan is putting money in a "Sunshine Account" at the BANK OF MONTREAL. And I'm not doing it with just ordinary budgeting—there's too much squeezing into other people's ideas for me! I prefer the BofM's "do-it-your-way" Personal Planning. I think you'll agree with me when you try it that Personal Planning is a wonderful approach to money management. Helps you to look your expenses right in the eye without flinching... and helps you to save without penny-pinching. Would you like to find out how Personal Planning can help you to afford that wonderful holiday next year? Just ask at your nearest BofM branch for a free copy of the booklet called "Personal Planning". It will show you how to cope with your everyday expenses—and save money, too!

Do You Ever Wish a "Fairy Godmother" would give you a couple of new feet in exchange for the old ones? Well I know something much more practical (and just as effective). It's Phenylum, the wonder-working ingredient in BLUE-JAY Corn Plasters and Callus Plasters. It's the ingredient that took ten years of scientific research for Blue-Jay to develop... and now they really "have something"! For scientific tests show that Phenylum works 33% faster to end corns and calluses in 95% of the cases tested. So if your feet are bothering you—make them feel like new feet—with Phenylum. Ask your druggist today for Blue-Jay Corn and Callus Plasters with Phenylum.

The Best Of Travellers have their "off days". Well, here's my remedy for that sluggish, headachy feeling—a sparkling, pleasant-tasting glass of SAL HEPATICA in the morning before breakfast. And if hubby or son are feeling low, suggest they try Sal Hepatica, too. It's been a faithful family laxative for over 60 years. Another beauty about Sal Hepatica is that you can use it safely merely as a refresher in the morning—or at night when your system feels the need of a good cleansing. Sal Hepatica effectiveness is pleasant to take—mild and gentle—yet wonderfully effective. So when you're packing for your vacation trip—plan to pack up your troubles with a jar of Sal Hepatica (effervescent salt).

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

MAIN STREET MOVIE

Did you ever think that it might be a good idea if, at the south end of the pavement on Main Street and say, at the crest of the hill north, there were huge mirrors that would let us see ourselves as we walked along.

I often sit for a while in the car on Saturday on Main Street, while the crowds flick past exactly like a movie, and humor, tragedy, love, hate, haste and stolidity are written large on people's faces.

But strangely enough, the prevailing expression is worry. People hurry along with a "do or die" expression and truly, when one has just laid in the week's supply of groceries even for a small family, it's hard to view the world with the optimism one would like.

Have you ever realized how truly the faces of the people you come in contact with reflect the face you show them. I've watched a person who looked at war with himself and the world stop to talk to someone who looked cheerful and often the sad one went off with a bit of reflected sunshine in his face.

That's where the mirrors would come in — we'd "see ourselves as others see us" and maybe wipe a bit of the disgusted look off and put a bit of good will on.

It's fun to see all the different heads and heels. When I was very young it would have been a bit difficult to tell if a woman had heels. Our dresses swept the ground—the sidewalks didn't need street cleaners — women's skirts did the work and the uppers of our shoes were in a perpetual state of greyness from the ingrained sand and dust.

Now, large heels and small heels, bare heels and covered heels, bare toes with brilliant nails and toes plain white are too much of a common place to be remarked unless one is out just to watch for the fun of it. And heads — unless one was blessed with curly hair, one wore it severely plain or, with often a

Bantams vs Port Hope

Three teams, bantam, midget and intermediate, will carry the Newmarket banner in the O.B.A. playdowns this season. The Optimist sponsored bantams are first to get their marching orders; they've drawn Port Hope as first round opposition.

The first game of the series was to be played in Port Hope last night. Second game in the best of three series is scheduled for the fair grounds Saturday afternoon, Aug. 23, at 3 p.m. The local bantams have chalked up a handsome 10-win, 1-loss record in North York league competition and club officials foresee a banner O.B.A. year. All that is needed to put these young ball hawks into the finals is some honest to goodness fan support.

Lowell Waller's Little Giant midgets haven't received advice regarding their first opponents. It should be forthcoming this week. Redmen intermediates are scheduled to kick off their O.B.A. season Aug. 30. Opposition hasn't been named as yet. It could be either Collingwood or Midland. Geo. Haskett is O. B. A. convener for this district.

Top notch pitching and high grade catching are necessary ingredients for winning softball titles. Zephyr Blues, three-time winners in the Lake Simcoe Softball League, have been getting both from their battersmen, 1. to r. Bill Thornlow, Ron Kester, Carl "Johnny" Meyers. Ron Kester is the mainstay of the pitching corps but if he should weaken, which isn't likely, Coach Ches Lunney will have another trump card to throw at the opposition in newcomer Bill Thornlow.

Zephyr Blues, over the first hurdle in their plans to annex a fourth straight Lake Simcoe Softball League title, boast a strong, smooth working infield. Here they are, 1. to r. Harry Hawse, first base; Ches Lunney, second base; Stan Lunney, second base; Ken Pickering, third base; Alan Kestie, short-stop. Blues have two more rivers to cross before claiming the Stan Cook Trophy. They meet Pine Orchard in the semi-final set with the first game at Zephyr tonight (Thursday). If they come through that one they'll go against the survivors of Mount Albert - Keswick feud.

O.R.S.A. Playdowns

King City will meet either Rockwood or Eden Mills in the first round of the intermediate B Ontario Rural Softball League playdowns, reports Bruce Hall, Peel-York Softball League secretary.

two-of-three series are expected to be completed within the next day or two. Three other teams from the Peel-York circuit are entered in the O.R.S.A. playdowns. Kettleby Jets, with an intermediate C rating, have drawn Milton Heights as first round opposition. Game one in this series will be played under the Schomberg lights Friday, Aug. 22, at 8 p.m.

Humber Summit, season-long leaders in the Peel-York loop, are scheduled to tackle Cooks-ville in the senior O.R.S.A. first round and Bolton will clash with Haliburton in intermediate A.

Bery Ladies Win Crown

Schomberg White Sox won their second straight York-Simcoe Ladies' Softball League title Monday, defeating Beeton 11-8 in Schomberg in the fifth and deciding game of the league's final series.

A last of the seventh, two-on homer by catcher Peggy Ellison with the score tied 8-all furnished Schomberg with the win and championship.

The Schomberg lassies gave their home clients heart failure in the early rounds. Marie Marchant, Schomberg's ace hurler, set Beeton down on five hits, but ran into a flare of wildness in the fifth, walking in three runs and allowing Beeton three of their five hits. This tumultuous innings gave Beeton six runs and the invaders went into the final innings protecting an 8-6 advantage.

That state of affairs didn't last long. Marian Dove got a life on an infield error, Lorna Brown followed with a single and Gladys Edwards and Marilyn Campbell promptly singled their mates home with the tying runs. Peggy Ellison socked the game winning circuit smash. That blow was Peggy's third hit of the game as she led the winners at the plate. Catcher Jean McKelvey stroked out three hits to provide the Beeton sock power.

Ray Rogers, York-Simcoe league secretary, presented the league trophy to the Schomberg champs after the game.

Schomberg: Golda Aitcheson ss, Marie Marchant p, Marian Dove lf, Peggy Ellison c, Ann Sheardown cf, Verna Hamilton rf, Lorna Brown 3b, Gladys Edwards 2b, Marilyn Campbell 1b. Beeton: J. McKelvey, R. Sunnerston, E. Corbett, D. Yeaman, A. Rutledge, J. Crocker, M. Dermott, D. Speck, S. Stewart.

Recalling The Players Of The Past

Stouffville Red Sox have dropped out of O.B.A. competition due to difficulty in getting players off work for long trips and the lengthy season involved. Stouffville are not as strong as last year when they lost a tough series to Waterdown. Sunderland will represent the western Tri-County sector, being classed as "C". Sutton Green Sox are still favored to annex the bunting again as George Holborn is pitching terrific ball.

Speaking of hurlers, it's interesting to note that High-Pockets Miller, former Stouffville hurler, is doing right well in class "D", having racked-up 10 wins so far for the DeLand, a Florida team. Miller, who answers to the moniker "Stanley", received quite a bit of tutoring from Earl Cook who retired from mound duties this year.

It's just 20 years ago that Dan. Howley speared Cook from the amateur ranks at Toronto Willowdale park, and "The Lemonville Farmer" lasted in the monied circles for 15 years. Played with Leafs, Beaumont, Detroit, Cincinnati, Portland, Buffalo and Syracuse, among others.

Ray Gifford, another baseball or of better than average class, was in Aurora last week from New York State renewing acquaintances. Ray is as dapper as ever and it's a matter of around 19 years since he shook the dust of Aurora park from his cleats. Gifford was a great all-round performer, playing equally well at third, outfield, or behind the plate.

As a kid, he broke into baseball when Aurora had a winning Tri-County team of "Dooley" Butler, Hec Gordon, Harry King, Chuck Dales, the late Gene Underhill, "Whiff" Robinson, Phil Overend (Brother Phillip of De La Salle), Pol Parkins, Glen Brown, Percy Devins, Al Kent, with the late Dr. Cliff Devins, and Alex Kirkwood in charge.

When that team broke up, he was the backbone of the teams of the late 20's and early 30's, including the late Theo Hale, Charlie Naughton, yours truly, Will. Oran, Earl Browning, Wilkie Fleury, Les Kay, Buck Hayes, George Jiggins, Eric Soanes, Bert Grant, Hank Grainger, Rusty White, Herb Sharpless, Al. McNab, Harry Squibb, Bill Filkin, among others. Was a good hockey player too, although not inclined to mix it. Played on Aurora Juniors of 1923 who won Metropolitan honors.

Let's see now. Aub. Fleury, George Edwards (Schomberg),

Aurora high and King City athlete, who served in World War 2 with the R.C.A.F., is now stationed in with the 426 Squadron in West Germany.

A masked marvel will shortly be introduced by the Red Gaffer players. The boys are beginning to do all right for themselves with Stouffville arena added to the circuit. New faces or old ones behind masks are a must for the grapplers.

Seems like old times to see Hank Grainger back in action on the diamond. Doing a good job as coach of the Richmond Hill midget club and son Lloyd Grainger is one of the best youngsters in the group—a chip off the old block. Reg. Hamilton, well known in these parts for his connection with Chicago Hawks, then the Leafs, aside from his record as a player, has quit hockey to concentrate on his private business. Reg. will be in the business end of T.V. He coached the Marlboros last season and snared Bobby Forhan from Aurora Bears. Bob will soon be taking off for St. Michael's College.

This lad, Bob Fallis whom Andy Closs has signed for the Bears, looks like a real prospect. He's a triple-threat kid as he's playing both softball and lacrosse this summer for Bradford and all his mates say he's better at hockey than in either of these games where he holds his own with no trouble. John Stuart, former Aurora boy whose horses have not entered the winning circle very often this season, lost a promising two-year-old Barbara Joan last week. The filly suffered lockjaw, and had to be shot by the vet.

No axe to grind with anyone but the Stouffville arena financial statement for the past season is mighty interesting reading. The gross take was over $35,000, with the Clippers pulling in close to $15,000 and receiving back some $9,300 for their cut. Hockey practices grossed $4,300, and T.H.L. fees came to $3,400. Public skating brought in $2,181. We think those figures can't be equalled or even closely met by at least four district artificial ice plants.

The municipality received $3,772.85 for lights and water and taxes. Company figures indicate a net profit of over $30,000.00 in three years and the mortgage reduced to less than $10,000.00. This is a private enterprise of course, but the municipality's needs are well looked after as well. The Stouffville figures on all scores are something to shoot at.

Spitfire Name Coach

Hockey makes its debut in the sport lines with an early note from the Spitfire front. Harry Morrison has been named as coach of the 1952-53 Spitfire edition. Most Newmarket fans will remember Morrison as an O.H.A. referee.

Spitfire executive at a gathering last week decided to stick with their intermediate A status and will likely make the northern trek against Collingwood, Midland and Orillia. Arena manager Stan. Smith makes it official that the hockey season isn't far off with the announcement this week that the subscribers tickets will go on sale the first week in September.

Over 400 subscribers' tickets were sold for the regular season last winter. They'll go on a first-come, first-served basis. Better get your bid in early, fans.

Keswick Tourney

Five teams have filed entries for the Keswick Sports Day softball tournament, says convenor Ken. Hodgins. They are Zephyr, Keswick, Willow Beach, Mount Albert and Pine Orchard. Convenor Hodgins reports there's room for one more team. "We'll take one from the Newmarket town league if they want to come in," he adds.

Tournament play gets underway at 2 p.m. The date is Saturday, Aug. 23. Games will be played on Keswick's new sport field to the rear of the arena, and should give the new home of softball in Keswick a million dollar send off.

Beach, Keswick Out Of Race

There is no joy in Keswick. Mount Albert has sent Tommy Hare's mighty swat platoon to the deep freeze. They follow Willow Beach down the trail to oblivion. Three teams are left in the Simcoe race, Mount Albert, Zephyr and Pine Orchard.

Latter pair open a best of three semi-final tonight in Blues camp with the second game at Pine Orchard Monday. Survivor will wrestle the Mount for the Stan Cook mug.

Three actionful games over the past week. Pine Orchard earned a shot at Zephyr in the semi by dropping Willow Beach 12-10 Monday in the third and deciding game of their series. Beach couldn't stand prosperity. A five-run fifth frame flare-up sent them into the seventh protecting an 8-7 edge. Then it happened. Pine Orchard erupted for five runs to make it an even dozen. Beach attempted a last desperate bid - it got them two runs - but fell two short of the tying rallies.

Both teams were teeing off against Cee. McNeill and Ted Tidman. Alvin Pegg, Lorne Shropshire and Roy Eves showered out three hits each. Howie Ash poked out a base circle. Don Trivett and Norm Powell rated the side-line cheers for their solid socking. Ted Anderson supplied the Beaches' long hit, a triple.

Tuesday Mount Albert won 4-3 to eliminate Keswick. What a ball game that was. Tension rode on every pitch. Here's the last of seventh picture. It was three all. Two were out. Bob Badger, who walked to start the Mounties' last batting, was poised at third. Kelly Case was the hitter. Kelly leaned into a Harold Smith outside pitch and the apple rode into right center. Claude Pollock almost had it but no, it was a hit. Mount wins the game and series, three games to one.

Teams went three frames without cracking the goose egg. They swapped single runs in the fourth as Tom Hare's single gave Keswick their first lead. Doug Simpson and Kelly Case paired singles for Mounties' run. They went for two each in the fifth. Eddie Chadwick's triple did the trick for Keswick. Doug Simpson's single rode two Mounties home. Ken Mitchell and Harold Smith each allowed six hits. Smitty whiffed ten, Mitch four. Mounties' three stars are Kelly Case, Ken Mitchell and Doug Simpson. Keswick stars are Eddie Chadwick and Harold Smith. Ron Rowe, Ken Hodgins (double), Eddie Chadwick, Tommy Hare and Harold Smith collected Keswick safeties. Doug Simpson and Kelly Case sparked the Mounties with two each. Batterymen Bob Badger and Ken Mitchell tagged one each.

Mount topped Keswick 11-5 Friday to take a 2-1 edge in the series. Charlie Green's two-on first frame triple and Ken Mitchell's bases loaded three bagger in the fifth put the Mounties in line to win, as they dug in for three in first and four in the fifth. Keswick plated three in the fifth but couldn't do much with Ken Mitchell's six hit pitching. Harold Smith gave up

SIMCOE PLAYDOWNS

Three teams remain in the hunt for the Lake Simcoe Softball League title and the Stan Cook Trophy. They'll be down to three before the week it out. Pine Orchard, fresh and sharp after knocking off Willow Beach, now have a go at Ches. Lunney's Zephyr Blues in the semi-final round. Game one in their best of three set is scheduled for the Zephyr Park tonight (Thursday). While it's not definite, the teams will likely swing over to the Pine Orchard diamond Monday for game two. In the other semi-final bracket Mount Albert took Keswick three games to one.

seven hits. Kelly Case headed the stick parade with a double and single followed by Dave Couch with a pair of singles. Elmo Paisley starred in the outfield, robbing Keswick of several sure hits. Bob Pollock and Claude Pollock with two hits each and Harold Smith and Tom Hare with one apiece were Keswick successful sockers.

MT. Albert: D. Couch, B. Badger, C. Green, L. Rutledge, H. Watts, D. Simpson, K. Case, E. Paisley, K. Mitchell, A. Gibney, G. Green.

Keswick: R. Connell, R. Rowe, B. Pollock, K. Hodgins, E. Chadwick, T. Hare, C. Pollock, A. Smith, H. Smith.

Bantams Tie Port Hope

Newmarket Optimist bantams made their 1952 O.B.A. debut on Wednesday in Port Hope. They didn't win but did the next best thing, tying Port Hope 7-7. Game two goes at the Fair Grounds at 3 on Saturday afternoon. Optimists appeared shooing with a 7-1 lead going in the fifth, thanks to Jack Cain's five ball pitching and ready bat support from Willie Wilson, Pat Ewing, Don Thoms, Bill Forhan and Brian Million.

Jack Cain was in pecks of trouble in the fifth and before Coach Lowell Waller could get Don Thoms in there to snuff out the fire, Ports had rallied for five runs. Ports tied it with a last of the seventh run off relief-er Don Thoms.

Newmarket: W. Cain, J. Cain, D. Zogalo, D. Thoms, W. Forhan, W. Wilson, P. Ewing, B. Million, F. Lewis, D. Lewis.

Town Series Open

Town league semi-finals will start Monday at the fair grounds. Bracket one will match Thompson-Bell vs Hoffman. Sports-Cycle machine will meet Office Specialty. Both sets will be settled on a best two out of three basis. Second games will be played on Wednesday.

First game of the double-header kicks off at 7:15 sharp, second game at 8:30. Predictions and threats issuing from the four camps indicate town league followers are in for some excitement next week. Upsets can be expected. Don't miss the fun.

HASHMAN AWARD

Mitch Never Gave Up

Your Hashman award board had to go into extra innings to pick this week's Hashman and Kory Theatre pass award winner. Believe me, it wasn't easy to arrive at a decision, especially in the face of some of the superman efforts turned in around the Hub and district moshball and baseball diamonds.

A ball player who never gives up no matter what the score, never knows when he's licked, is our kind of ball player. That type of player is seldom beaten. But should he lose, you'll see him first over to offer the glad hand to the winners.

That's just the kind of player we're naming this week. It's Ken "Red" Mitchell, Mount Albert's veteran hurler. A good many fans said Keswick would base his Mount to death. They didn't because Ken Mitchell wouldn't let them. When things looked blackest Mitch pitched his best. That is why Mount Albert and not Keswick made the Lake Simcoe finals. So we're saying well done "Mitch" - hope you're around for another ten years.

Redmen Lose First Of Finals

Newmarket Redmen got good, hitting Tuesday but they didn't get clutch hitting and that tells the story of their 8-4 licking in Alliston Tuesday.

That loss put the Redmen a game down in the best of five South Simcoe baseball league finals. Redmen will try to even it here Friday.

Redmen outscored Alliston 11-6 but ran plumb out of base hits with runners on the base-ways. They left 11 stranded. Twice, in the fourth and fifth with the Redmen trailing 5-3 by this time, they populated the sacks and out of it got only one run. A couple of solid base knocks at the right point could have won the game.

Redmen started like world beaters. They cashed three runs in the lead innings: Bill Grant, Don Gibson, Jerry Hugo, Wilf Elsy, Jimmy Cook and Cliff Gunn starting the scoring ball rolling with consecutive hits. Alliston weren't impressed. They shot right back with a five-run outburst against Ken Broughton. The Redmen helped to make it a rugged session for our winningest pitcher by committing a couple of costly "rocks".

After that piece of misfortune, Broughton settled away to pitch three-hit ball but Alliston, hearing and heading opportunity's knock, plated single runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth to put the insurance runs in the kitty. Hack Cain's pinch hit double in the fifth chalked up the Redmen's fourth counter.

Ted Bailey worked five on the Alliston hill. He was no puzzle for the Redmen as Don Gibson, Jerry Hugo, Wilf Elsy and Jim Cook speared a pair each, but the Alliston right hander had enough left in the pinches to work his way out of trouble. Keith Chandler came in relief in the fifth to complete Alliston's pitching stint.

TURAN LOST TO DIGGERS

Mickey Sutton and his Aurora Ditch Diggers will have to worry along without the services of their star centerfielder, Bob Turan, for the balance of the Aurora Town League season. Bob fractured his ankle while at work last week. It was a tough blow as Bob was the main cog in the outfield defence and has brought the town league followers to their feet with several "out of this world" catches this season.

Redmen At Home Friday

Newmarket Redmen baseball tribe are down a game in their best of five final series with Alliston. You can read elsewhere how it happened.

Hack Cain's platoon will have their big opportunity to get revenge and take the lead in the series with the next two games scheduled for the fair grounds. Alliston will be here tomorrow, Friday, for game two and the third game, while not definitely set as yet, will likely be aired here next Tuesday. Both games are scheduled to start at 7 p.m. sharp.

Alliston and Newmarket are closely matched. The games should provide the best baseball fare of the season, and the largest crowd of the year is expected to cram the bleachers.

Declare Tennis Champs

Newmarket and district singles tennis championships, which were in progress all of last week at the local courts, wound up on Friday evening. The event, the first of its kind staged in this district since the war years, drew 16 ladies and 20 men. It was conducted on a round-robin basis with each player meeting in the other at least once. Keith Davis wore the men's single crown at the conclusion of Friday's activity defeating Charlie Lee in straight sets 6-3, 6-2. Joan Peppiatt won the ladies' singles title, defeating Margaret Davis 6-2, 3-6, 6-4.

3-Man Team Match

Take heed, wrestling fans. Don't come to the arena tonight unless you've had your ticket tested lately. If you do, and you're not prepared for big doings, you're likely to conk out in the midst of tonight's three-man team match that will provide the feature attraction.

It promises to set a new high in dynamics with the team of Gori Mangotich, Baron von Silber and Tom Sullivan colliding head on with the "peering threesome" of Red Garner, Bill Clubine and Farmer Norm. The bout goes to a finish and two referees will oversee the heavy ring traffic. That could mean, and judging from the recent tag team match, will mean, eight men in the ring at once intent on tearing somebody loose from their bridge work.

Two top-notch supporting bouts will complete the show. Alex Jensen of Hamilton, hooking and slicing with Jimmy Kroetcheer, the Aurora bulldog, in the initial romp. In the semi-final session, Jack Diamond, Canadian middleweight crown holder, will tangle with Antonio Rocci. First bout is scheduled to start at 8:45 p.m.

Pin-Ups Ties Series

Newmarket Pin-ups and Keswick are tied at a game each in the Lake Simcoe Junior Ladies' softball league series. The two teams pried the lid off on their best of five series Monday in Keswick. Keswick jumped off with a five-run first innings effort and stayed ahead to collect an 8-3 win.

Tuesday, playing heads-up ball and drawing on a staunch pitching try from Loretta Forhan, Pin-ups conked Keswick 10-0.

In the game Monday, Lil. Worrell pitched steadily and received ample bat support from Kay Peters, Grace Peters, Bev. Heaton, Ruth York and Ruth Mary Peters. Marlene Martin, Joan Quinn and Betty McArthur teed off with a pair of solid hits to pace the Pin-ups.

In the Tuesday affair, the Pin-ups, trailing 4-0, started on the way back with five runs in the third, counted two in the fourth and filed the winning batch of three runs in the fifth. Geo. Watt's new catching find, Isabel Rogers, and outfielder Helen Tennant hold high hit marks for the Pin-ups. Kay Diceman rocked Keswick to sleep with a fine seventh frame relief effort to protect Loretta Forhan's pitching triumph. Grace Curtis and Kay Peters levelled off with three hits each in the Keswick cause.

Newmarket: L. Forhan, I. Rogers, H. Tennant, G. Woodhouse, P. Quinn, M. Martin, B. McArthur, B. Williams, J. Quinn, M. Lee, D. McGrath. Keswick: K. Peters, G. Curtis, G. Peters, L. Worrell, B. Heaton, R. York, L. Clark, R. Peters, H. Porter.

Ladies Lose P.W.S.U. Opener

Ladies Enter Play-Offs

Newmarket ladies got off to a heart-break start in their search of P.W.S.U. honors by dropping a 4-3 decision to Bowmanville Pepis at the fair grounds Wednesday. Now the VanZant-Ruthven company must make a back-to-the-wall fight Saturday and take two games to stay alive. Don't sell 'em short—they can do it too.

Wednesday's loss was a bitter pill to swallow, especially as the invaders cashed in their winning hand on unearned runs. Local sunshine soakers figured Dame Fortune had done her worst as Bowmanville went up 3-0 on three unearned tallies. But no, there was a further bundle of sadness in store for them as the visitors plated the winner—it was 3-all by this time — with another unearned run in the top of the ninth.

Between those two sad events, the locals rose up to score the tying runs in the sixth. Joan MacDonald and Phyl. McInnis paired singles to start our tying rally moving. Those two along with Shirley Wilson were our top hitters. Phyl. got three, Joan and Shirley two each. Bowmanville outlived us 9-7. At that, Sarah Barradell, Coach VanZant's pitching selectee, could have scraped through with a win with tighter fielding support. Locals committed five costly errors—two of them coming in the fatal ninth. Fielding highlights were furnished by Terry Reid in left field, and Barbara Watt with some slick first basing.

Local ladies will also have P.W.S.U. playdown games on their hands this week. Bowmanville is the opposition. First game of the series was scheduled for the fair grounds last night. Second game will be played in Bowmanville Saturday, Aug. 23, at 3 p.m. If a third game is required, it will also be played in Bowmanville Saturday evening at 7 p.m.

Form Boxing Club

Newmarket Boxing Club. Never heard of it, you say? You will before long. Several Hub mittmen are presently in the process of forming a boxing club. They've got as far as arranging for a gym to work out. If you're interested in the fight game and want to get in on the ground floor, contact Bill Bannister for details. His phone number is 141323. The club plans to stage a boxing show in about two months and following that, will seek outside bouts with Barrie or Toronto amateur ringmen.

Little Giants Meet Hill

The round-robin series between Newmarket, Richmond Hill and Aurora concluded last week was supposed to produce a North York Midget baseball league champion but didn't. The three evenly matched sides, after playing their home and home set, ended in a three-way deadlock. That means further playoff action before a league champion can be declared.

League officials Monday decided to send Lowell Waller's Newmarket Little Giants against Richmond Hill in a home and home semi-final series. Winner of the Newmarket-Richmond Hill set will then tackle Fred Wilson's Aurora Legion Midgets for the league title.

There will be a slight delay before Richmond Hill and Newmarket get their semi-final series underway as Richmond Hill are presently engaged in O.B.A. play with Stouffville.

Bantams Win Opener

Newmarket's super-charged Optimist bantams, boasting a 10-win, 1-loss record over the season, cleaned up on Bill Muddell's Aurora Rotary 12-3 at the fair grounds Thursday in the opening game of a round-robin series designed to produce a North York baseball league titleholder. Richmond Hill, Aurora and Newmarket are participants in the round-robin.

A five-run second innings explosion in which Don. Zogalo's double and singles by Brian Million and Bill Cain were the big blows, spliced with a neat four-hit pitching job by Don. Thoms, put the locals in line to snap up the win. Aurora harvested three runs in the lead innings on an error and singles by Herb McKenzie and Bud Sutton, but from there on Thoms was never in trouble.

Bill Cain coupled a homer, double and single to pace Newmarket's eight-hit attack on Jackie Brooks. Don. Thoms backed his pitching try with a triple. Bill Wray doubled and Herb McKenzie, Bud Sutton and Jack Brooks singled to provide Aurora's plate power.

Don. Thoms claimed seven strike-out victims. Jack Brooks was one better, whiffing eight Optimists. Return game at Aurora Monday was postponed due to wet grounds.

Aurora: H. Bunn, K. Brown, W. Wray, H. McKenzie, B. Sutton, H. Hammond, F. Bolsby, D. Bears, D. Fines, J. Brooks. Newmarket: W. Forhan, D. Zogalo, W. Wilson, W. Cain, F. Lewis, J. Cain, D. Lewis, B. Million, D. Thoms.

Rockets Take 'Civil's' 7-4

Exploding in the third and sixth frames for three runs in each, DeLahaye's Rockets tripped the cellar dwelling Civil Service 7-4 Thursday in an Aurora Town League contest. The win pulled the Rockets up a notch closer to the tied top leading Ditch Diggers and Queen City Storage.

Aurora town league followers applauded the early run producing efforts of Doug Richardson, Alf Childs, Paul Knowles and John O'Mahoney as the Rocketmen leaped into a 4-0 lead. Wit White, Servicemen's hit leader with three, and Ron Brown found the range on Doug Richardson in the bottom of the fifth to touch off a three-run rally and make it a new ball game at 4-3.

Rocketmen blasted off with their second three-run innings in the sixth on hits by Dave Ferguson, Henry Ford and Bobbs Cook to sew up the decision.

Doug Richardson picked up the pitching decision over Red Craig as the Servicemen showed signs of making it hot for all comers from here on in.

Rockets: A. Childs, P. Knowles, H. Chubino, J. O'Mahoney, B. Cato, D. Ferguson, G. Edwards, H. Ford, W. Bowdery, B. Cook, D. Richardson. Civil Service: T. Sutton, W. Hammond, R. Craig, J. Green, G. Rose, R. Beamish, C. Southwood, W. White, B. Coates, R. Brown.

COUNCIL REPORT

Authorize PS Debenture: Discuss New Subdivision: Corbett Reports On Arena

A regular meeting of the town council was held on Monday night, August 18, with Mayor Rose in the chair and all members present. Lasting from 8 o'clock until ten minutes past midnight, it proved to be the longest session of council held this year. The amount of business transacted was not, however, in proportion to the time spent on it.

There was a letter from Mrs. Crysdale, of Kennedy St. West, drawing attention to a number of apple and maple trees on the east side of the Crysdale property and which were likely to be uprooted in consequence of adjacent street extension.

In the course of her letter, appealing to council to take some steps to save the trees, Mrs. Crysdale pointed out that 33 feet of Crysdale land had been sold to the town for the nominal sum of $1. It was claimed that the land was now worth $13 per foot.

It was, however, the amenities of the locality that the letter pleaded to preserve, and when the matter was raised at a later stage of council proceedings, it was resolved to leave it with the streets committee (Deputy-Reeve Murray and Councillors Davis and Murray), with full authority to make a decision on behalf of council.

Nursery School
Mrs. Larry Rubin, acting for a delegation, made representations on behalf of a Nursery school that had been operating for the past two years, and requested the use of a room at the old town hall. Mrs. Rubin effectively outlined the merits of such a nursery school.

After some discussion, a motion by Councillor Corbett, and seconded by Councillor Jones, was adopted to the effect that a room be provided for the Nursery school, subject to suitable fire equipment being installed.

Municipal Board Approval
A letter from the town solicitor was read, indicating that the recent additional grant of $35,000 for public school rebuilding purposes had been approved.

A motion by Councillor Tucker, seconded by Councillor Corbett, was carried, authorizing the sale of $285,000 debentures, representing the total grant to the public school for rebuilding and remodeling purposes.

Reeve Revenue
Reeve Cook, chairman of the finance committee, presented a report in the course of which it was pointed out that the net revenue received from the meters for the town since their installation, approximately 10 months ago, amounted to $2,294.

Conservation Authority
Former member of council, Mr. Harold Pringle, the town representative on the Holland Valley Conservation Authority, appeared for a delegation which included Mr. Lorne Evans and Mr. E. H. Clarke.

Mr. Pringle briefly indicated the work of the Authority. He stated that maps had been published for distribution in schools, with the object of inducing pupils to become conservation-conscious. He said that a pond on the new Slater subdivision could be developed, to the great advantage of the district.

Mr. Lorne Evans outlined useful work that had been carried out in Whitelaw township, where a dozen farmers had become interested in the putting in of ponds. He recommended that the town of Aurora could most usefully acquire two or three acres of land and put in the pond.

to which Mr. Pringle had referred.

Mr. Clarke supported the observations made, saying that a pond would add to the amenities of the district.

Reeve Cook said he had found Mr. Slater very co-operative.

Councillor Murray said that members of council should go down and look the property over, so that they would know what they were talking about.

It was finally resolved to obtain a surveyor's report so that council could give further thought to the matter.

New Subdivisions
Councillor Tucker, for the planning board, submitted plans for two new subdivisions, namely, on behalf of Mr. Slater and Mr. Senutovich.

Deputy-Reeve Murray once again raised the question of an appropriate by-law covering costs in relation to new subdivisions.

Councillor Murray expressed the opinion that until such a by-law was in force no new subdivisions should be approved. He protested that council was acting in too much of a hurry.

After much discussion the Slater plans were referred back to the planning board.

On a motion by Councillor Tucker, seconded by Councillor King, the new Senutovich subdivision on Kennedy St. and George St. was approved, with Councillors Davis and Murray opposing.

Zoning By-Law
Councillor Tucker reported that the amended zoning by-law was now almost ready to be again presented to council, and trusted that it would be carefully studied in committee by all members of council.

Report on Arena
Councillor Corbett, chairman of the property committee, said he had met with the arena board in answer to their request to do so.

He was, he said, the only member of his committee to turn up (other members are Deputy-Reeve Murray and Councillor Davis).

Mr. Corbett said they had inspected what he described as "the notorious east end of the rink," pointing out that the arena board was asking for a retaining wall to be built, at the expense of the town.

In his opinion, said Councillor Corbett, it was now far too late in the year to consider undertaking such work, assuming that the rink should resume activities by October 1. The arena board also wanted drainage installed.

"If the board had made these suggestions in the early spring," said Mr. Corbett, "something might have been done about them. At this time of the year it was far too late to undertake such work."

Reeve Cook, who attended the meeting, said it was major work. He had no clear idea how much the work might cost. It might run from $20,000 to even $50,000.

No discussion took place on Councillor Corbett's report and the matter was dropped.

Acknowledgment was made by the reeve of the grant of $5,000 received from the Agricultural department of the provincial government, which Councillor Murray had personally applied for, for the arena.

By-Law Passed
Councillor King introduced a by-law covering the installation of sanitary sewers which had been petitioned for on Kennedy St. Dr. C. R. Building and Dr. E. J. Henderson sat in through the protracted debate preceding the passing of the by-law and taking part in the discussion.

Council resolved to advertise for tenders for the work of construction.

Employee Resigns
Mr. Jack Manten appeared before council to request that his resignation as a municipal employee be accepted. Mr. Manten said his health had not been good recently and he had found it advisable to secure lighter work.

Council adjourned at 12:10 a.m.

COMPULSORY INSURANCE

An Aurora business man who has been a car owner for several years, and has an absolutely clean record, was returning home from Toronto a few weeks ago when he was bumped into by a truck driver. The impact tore away a fender and damaged the car door. It was an almost new car and the cost of repairs amounted to about $70. The cause of the accident was an improper right turn by the truck driver.

The owner of the car pays a heavy annual insurance premium and has done so during all the years he has been driving. He effected the insurance as a matter of common sense, for his own protection and for the protection of others. What about the truck driver? He had no insurance. He rolls around the countryside willy-nilly. If all goes well, then all goes well. If all doesn't go well then somebody else must bear the brunt of his irresponsibilities.

Such a situation is not fair to thousands of car owners who take their responsibilities seriously. A car can be a mighty dangerous instrument. In the hands of those who take no thought for others it can prove a mighty expensive business when accidents occur and there is no insurance to cover them.

It is plain common sense that no one should be permitted to drive a car who doesn't carry insurance. If they cannot afford insurance then they cannot afford a car. In the case we are speaking of the car owner could get no satisfaction from the truck driver. So the car owner was advised to issue a writ to get redress and the case has still to be heard.

Before a barber can cut your hair he must have a licence. It is compulsory. Is compulsion less necessary for truck and car drivers using the highways without insurance of any kind? Common sense says "No".

TO THE DOGHOUSE!

Once or twice we have been asked if we consider it "good form" to criticize the Banner? Our answer is that we consider it good form to criticize the Banner, or any other mouthpiece of opinion, that seems to us to be prejudicial to the town or newspaper serves; the town in which we live and work and pay rent and taxes.

The Banner, under its new management, has often attacked us. We do not mind how often the Banner attacks us. We ask for no quarter from it and will assuredly give none. We can take care of ourselves. Our opinion is that the Banner, under its new management, has not proved a good influence on the public opinion of Aurora. That is our opinion and we have no hesitation in saying so.

Last week's issue provided an example of what a local newspaper should not be. It reported a $5,000 grant to the arena but did not tell its readers that the grant was obtained through the personal appeal of Councillor Jim Murray. It reported that the Recreation Commission has secured an instructor for figure skating classes at the rink. But it did not tell its readers that the man who secured the instructor was the same Mr. Murray, and that the same Mr. Murray obtained 60 free passes for children to attend the ball game at the Maple Leaf stadium, etc., etc.

We would report our strongest opponents and have done so in the past. Councillor Murray corrected the Banner because it misrepresented him. Egad, that was insubordination, Sir! So Murray is in the Banner doghouse. There must be no mention of his name or his services to Aurora. Such appears to be the Banner's standard of fair play and honest reporting.

KEEPING A PROMISE

There are few things that burn us up more easily than an unkept promise or appointment. If we say that we will be at a certain place at a certain time we will do everything humanly possible to fulfil our undertaking. Yet there are people who treat promises so lightly that when they are reminded of non-fulfilment they blandly reply: "Sorry, I forgot all about it." Sometimes they are not even good-mannered enough to remember to say "Sorry".

Some time back we recall a member of the town council standing in the doorway of the Hess drug store, hissing and fuming and giving way to some unparliamentary expressions. When we remonstrated with him he replied: "Wouldn't you feel the same way if you arranged a meeting with members of your committee for 8 o'clock and they hadn't shown up by 8:30?" Just as he spoke the delinquents made an appearance at the door of the town hall and the justly irate chairman crossed over to them.

That must have been exceptional, for the town council record for punctuality is excellent. It is not often that council meetings are behind the scheduled starting hour of 8 o'clock. And in any case our remarks were not intended to apply to members of council. We were thinking of the code of good manners in a broad and general sense.

We know a man who lost a good job for which he had applied for the reason that he was five minutes late for the appointment for an interview. He would have gotten the position had he been punctual; but his potential employer argued that if he couldn't keep the first appointment on time he might not keep other appointments. So he lost out.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

Beauty Of Countryside Seen On Trip To Musselman's Lake; Take Holiday In The Garden

One day last week, at the invitation of a friend, we drove to Musselman's lake and enjoyed very much the tour through the variegated countryside leading thereto. We have no special liking for motoring, especially for fast motoring.

But the day of which we write we shall remember for the simple pleasure it provided; the countryside, the sunlight glinting on stooked grain, cattle grazing in lush verdure, fine homesteads here and there, and barns that belokened the number one industry of Canada.

There is a great deal to see in the countryside for those who have eyes to see with, and always providing that one is seated in a car which is being driven at a speed which enables the would-be sightseer to witness nature's elaborate panorama.

There was one little pastoral scene which caught our eye, reminding us of a drawing by Constable, the English artist who really loved such quiet rural scenes. The scene was of cattle standing under the shade of a tree, with rolling woodland and clumps of bushwood for a background. Whether such a simple situation would have arrested the eye of a present-day Canadian artist is problematical.

The vogue in present-day art appears mainly to be concerned with daubs of color thrown at a canvass, leaving the spectator to guess whether the result is meant to be a camel in repose, a fish that suggests a former member of a town council, or Kipling's female, a "rag and a bone and a hank of hair."

There is no knowing what the modern artist is after, once he is let loose with a brush and a pot of paint.

Musselman's Lake

Our driver kept away from the main roads and we saw few cars. Narrow roads these were that reminded us of the treed grooves of Old England. We missed, of course, the English hedges which are a familiar feature of farm lands in the Old Country.

We had arrived at Musselman's lake and almost circled it, to find ourselves at the summit of our surroundings. We got out of the car, by Cedar Beach, and looked down on the glittering spectacle of water, in which visitors were enjoying themselves. On this ideal summer's day the little lake looked entrancing and the beach itself suggested a good second for the real thing by the seaside. The many visitors in evidence appeared to be of a similar mind.

Cedar Beach has a diving-board, an attractive dance-hall and commodious restaurant, and a fine adjoining park as an addition to its amenities. Its elevated situation provides a magnificent view of the lake, bathed as it was on the day of our visit in brilliant sunshine.

Cuckoos In Canada

On the return journey conversation turned to the birds of Canada and reference was made to a pastoral poem that appeared in a recent issue of the Era and Express by its brilliant contributor, Mrs. Isabel Inglis Colville, in which mention was made of the cuckoo.

We have never heard the voice of the cuckoo in Canada and have thought that this migrant predatory bird sought other summer climes than those of North America. It did afford opportunity, however, for comment on Mrs. Colville's column, "The Common Round," which we greatly enjoy. The Era and Express is fortunate in having several excellent women writers.

Garden Holidaying

For real relaxation, peace of mind and balm for the soul, give us a day in the garden, especially at this time of year when the hard work is over and only the harvesting of produce and cleaning-up remains to be done.

Last week we had a glorious half-day spent in this manner, under a burning sun. Noel Coward once wrote that "only mad dogs and Englishmen go out in the noonday sun." But to keep the record straight, Mr. Coward was referring to the South Pacific, not the North American sun.

We went into the garden soon after lunch and stayed there until around nine o'clock, with brief interruptions for afternoon tea and supper. We grabbed at every little job within sight, smoked and perspired, and when it was time finally to go indoors we went to bed and slept soundly.

A garden is full of mystery and magic and weeds also. There is a bug for every vegetable, just as there is a cure for every plan of every town councillor. Let us here put in a plug for a cabbage protective which we have used for years with the greatest success. You can get it from your druggist or hardware merchant. The name is Atox.

We can boast of cabbages that gleam like pearls, their silvery heads undamaged by the spaw of the raping white butterfly. Dust your young cabbages with the Atox mixture and they will be the envy of those who have not yet learned the use of that potent insecticide. For humans it is a guaranteed non-poisonous product of C.I.L.

Cleaning and Trimming
Our job last week was mainly cleaning and trimming. Our 50 by 20 vegetable patch, plus a little corner, is enough for our time and muscle. In it we have grown a couple of dozen varieties of vegetables, including tomatoes, if the latter are vegetables or fruits?

We have something growing at the bottom of the garden which has greatly puzzled friends and callers, including our near-neighbor, the veteran professor, lawyer and scientific gardener, Mr. George Young, who some years ago was at school with Canada's former prime minister, Mackenzie King.

"What have you there?" Mr. Young asked us one day as he looked at a tall hedge of vigorous plant-leaf growth. "Artichokes," we replied. "Artichokes, artichokes, never heard of them." We wonder if any garden in Aurora other than ours contains artichokes?

Head encased in a Chet Osborne dollar straw hat, we toiled away under the lovely August sun, trimming edges and paths, and, later, mowing and rolling them; we removed the last suckers from staked tomato vines and later dusted them with a mixture which came from Jim Wilson's hardware store, a preventative against the tomato bugs; the sun went down and the dew came up; the dew that poet John Keats described thus: "The evening dew that makes the morning precious."

Altogether, it was a lovely half-day's holiday.

The Davis Anniversary
Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Davis, who lately celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, received about three hundred guests for their notable occasion, over 200 of whom signed the golden book of memory. They came from distant parts of the United States as well as from various points in Canada. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Davis good health and many more celebrations of their wedding anniversary.

Why?
Why is it necessary for the post office to affix its stamp right in the centre of a beautiful picture post-card? A beautiful view from Kawartha lake district was utterly ruined by such a stamp being imprinted right in the centre of a lovely lake sunset. There was the lovely scene; and there the stamp "Aurora" and date disfiguring it. If regulations compel such disfigurements, then regulations should forthwith be civilized!

And Why the Noise?
Complaints reach us from near residents at the tennis courts that they sometimes cannot get to sleep near midnight because of the loud noises emanating from a few teen-agers who are over-vociferous at their games. It is a pity that such complaints should arise, for we have been stout supporters of the tennis club. The courts are in a hollow and exuberant comments carry far towards the dead of night. We feel sure our note will be heeded.

Other complaints have been heard of daytime screaming children on Spruce and Fleury. We're sorry; but we can't control the children. Parental control could, however, cure the nerve-disrupting vocal orgies.

King's Lodge, Minden
We had a call from our good friend, Mr. S. C. King, the other day. He reports a busy season at his property, King's lodge, and 12 cabins, at Minden in Haliburton county, where he has golf, boating, fishing and dancing and all summer amenities. Mr. and Mrs. Illyd Harris and family, Mr. and Mrs. Green and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. MacKenzie, and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Switzer, all from Aurora, have recently been at King's lodge.

AURORA'S METER HISTORY

A By-Law Sanctioning Meters In Aurora Was Approved Only On The Mayor's Casting Vote

The history of meters in Aurora has provided an interesting story. The story is now reaching its climax. The climax will be almost as exciting as a detective story. Nine men in council (if they are all present) will unfold the climax on the evening of September 8. We hope they will all be present. But none can be sure on that!

As matters stand at present, here, in our opinion, is how the members of council would vote. We exclude Mayor Rose from our calculations for the good reason that we have never heard him express an opinion on meters. He may be for them, or against them, we cannot say.

We think Councillors Corbett, Davis, Jones, Murray and Tucker would vote for the removal of the meters. Unless he changes his mind again, we think Reeve Cook will vote for their retention. Deputy Reeve Murray and Councillor King might vote with the Reeve. September 8 will give their answer, if both are present at the time of decision. The Banner "Survey"

Last week the smaller periodical came out with a great flourish of headlines, indicating that there was a majority of merchants in favor of retaining the meters. The headlines were so big and varied that it reminded one of Monday washing day, with garments of all sizes hanging out on the line to dry. A Banner headline reads: "21 For—13 Against—9 No Opinion."

Headlines are often misleading. Sometimes they are kites in the wind. In any case the "survey" undertaken by the smaller periodical was cockeyed. We know of merchants who are opposed to the meters who were never interviewed by the Banner "surveyor." Had these merchants been "surveyed" the Banner balance in favor of meters would have been altered.

You can never be quite certain on any Banner stand. By omitting important details in its reports it often gives false impressions. When its management presumably nurses a grudge it omits names from reports. We have drawn attention to these omissions in the case of Councillor Murray, in an editorial in this issue. In its council report of last week it did not tell its readers that Councillors Jones and King voted against spending $225. on the fire chief's attendance at the firemen's convention at Saint John.

Whether they were right or wrong in voting against such an expense, which Reeve Cook and other members of council opposed, while later voting for it, the stand of Councillors Jones and King in the final vote should have been stated, in fairness to them.

Getting Things Straight

How did the meters get into Aurora? That is an interesting question, and there are several answers to it. The most important answer is that meters came to Aurora because of the failure of the police committee, under the chairmanship of the former mayor, to enforce street parking regulations. If the police had been given unrestricted authority to enforce the existing street parking regulations the question of meters would never have arisen.

Cars standing on the Main St. for day-long periods exasperated merchants who were victimized by these gratuitous encroachments in front of their stores. Lacking definite authority to put a sticker on their windshield, the police were powerless.

Suddenly upon the scene came one Mr. Hoffman. This gentleman did not use a car nor own a store which could be inconvenienced by the parking of someone else's vehicle. Yet he campaigned for signatures in favor of meters with an energy similar to that which he applied later in support of liquor and beer outlets, while at the same time he announced through the Banner that he was a teetotaler. This evangelistic enthusiasm for causes in which the participant professed to have no personal or direct interest was an interesting paradox.

Two other perfunctory petitioners for meters were ex-mayor Bell and ex-councillor Mrs. Fielding.

Mayor's Vote Decides

On July 3, 1951, a motion for a by-law authorizing the installation of meters in Aurora was passed by the mayor's casting vote, four members of council voting for the affirmative and four against. A petition opposing meters was, however, introduced at council. The leader for the opposition was Mr. Jim Wilson. When it was presented Mr. Jack Bowser came with a few supporters who favored meters. An argumentative battle ensued between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bowser, with members of the council listening in as an audience. Mr. Bowser put up some powerful pleadings for meters; Mr. Wilson countered with opposition arguments not less powerful. Council was impressed and it was decided to hold a public meeting in the old town hall. The meeting was duly held and was attended by an enormous crowd numbering exactly 23.

The aforementioned Mr. Hoffman was present, arguing the case for meters. Reeve Cook was there, sometimes, it seemed, supporting meters, and at other times denouncing them. Mr. Bell and Mrs. Fielding were there.

Change Over!

Both the ex-mayor and the ex-councillor reiterated the need for meters. Mr. Stew Patrick was there. He was voted to the chair. As chairman he told the audience that the meeting was illegal since council had already voted for the installation of meters. With all the order of a Roman gladiator, Mr. Patrick pounced on every speaker who apparently got off the track.

How did the meeting end? Twelve voted for meters; eight opposed them and three had "no opinion." Merchants with "no opinion," according to the Banner "survey," now amount to nine.

Where do Mr. Bowser and Mr. Patrick stand today? Why, they are opposed to meters and want them out. But the Banner "survey" didn't tell its readers that little bit of interesting meter history. Why?

We are inclined to believe that there are few merchants who have "no opinion" on meters, although we can well believe that they have "no opinion" to release for Banner publication.

Situation More Complex

We believe the meters' situation to have become more rather than less complex since their installation. While they have solved the previous undesirable situation on Main street, with cars cluttering up the space on the highway day after day, other factors have arisen which are not in the best interests of good will and neighborliness.

Some of these antagonizing factors we shall refer to in a future article. In this present brief review we have dealt only with the precarious character of the introduction of meters into Au-

AURORA OLD-TIMER

Popular Citizen And Hunter, Frank Smith Dies In Hospital

One of Aurora's most popular old-timers, Frank J. Smith, died on Saturday morning, August 16, at the Toronto general hospital. He had not been in good health for almost a year, following the shock of the sudden death of his son, Cyril, at Sydney, N.S., in October of last year. He had been at the Toronto general hospital for the past three weeks.

Everybody in Aurora knew Frank Smith and his shoe-repairing store on Wellington St. For over 30 years he had been at the same location, succeeding his father, Charles Smith, who had served the public in a similar capacity in the old store for ten years previous to Frank taking over. Actually Frank Smith was a qualified carpenter before he became a shoemaker, taking up the latter trade at his father's request.

For about 34 years Frank Smith carried on a successful shoe-repairing business, and was celebrated for his cheerful, kindly manner. He was ready-witted and humorous and immensely popular. All through his long illness he remained cheerful and tried hard to make a successful health comeback.

The death of his son, Cyril, caused by a sudden heart attack, shook him deeply. With Mrs. Smith he took the journey by air to Nova Scotia, where their son had won a high reputation as a consulting engineer, to attend the funeral and was himself stricken and had to remain in hospital for several weeks. He returned to Aurora in poor health.

He resumed his business, saying that "it was grand to be back in Aurora, and see his old friends again." He fought a losing battle with courage and great cheerfulness, and never gave up until it was physically impossible for him to carry on any longer.

Good To Know

Frank Smith was a man whom it was good to know. Without pretence or affection, he was a straight shooter. He expressed opinions without fear or favor and never pandered to anybody. He told us once that he "had had a very happy life." He radiated good nature. He liked to talk, especially about his hunting exploits and old companions of by-gone years. He had a hunting lodge between Parry Sound and Huron. He originated a hunting gang over 50 years ago. He was proud of the fact that he had acted as cook for the gang for over 30 years. He loved to fish for bass and speckled trout, but the chase of the deer was his favorite sport.

Among hunters he used to talk about of the old days were Joseph Watts, Bert Patch, Alf Love, Jim Knowles, Lou Ham-bury, Orlando Brett, Wash. Haycock and Wes. Smith. He used to recall them fondly as grand hunters.

In High Esteem

At his death Frank Smith was in his 70th year. He had lived in Aurora for some 40 years. He was born in Zephyr, Ont. One of a large family, five brothers and one sister survive him. They are Richard, of Gladwin, Mich.; Walter, of Niagara Falls; Arthur, of Zephyr, Ont.; Julius, of Aurora; Daug-las, a manager at the T. Eaton and the present opposition of merchants who previously supported them.

70 Years Ago You Walked

The Ridges section of the sixth concession must surely have been surprised last week to find a big bus pass up and down its narrow, steep hills. Mr. Langdon drove the King W. I. ladies to a picnic, the first time a bus had travelled on this road. To the passenger it looked as if the roadway had all it could do to accommodate the big vehicle, with branches of trees scraping its sides. Proceeding north to the Aurora sideroad, there were unexpected sharp turns and more trees crowding at the bus. From there on it was open road to the Barrie highway.

Nevertheless, one wonders how the late Elizabeth Tinline walked through this bush when she taught school at S. S. 12, over 70 years ago. She would leave her farm home on the sixth line (now the Crawford place) on a Sunday afternoon. Her sister Catherine would walk part way through the woods with her, "as wonderful" Miss Tinline used to tell. "The massive trees and singing birds of every kind." One time there was a fire gaining headway in the bush when she set out. She was warned by a fire watcher not to go on.

However, this plucky, minute person, kept on going and Catherine waited until she could hear her frequent calls no longer. She got to her boarding house and all was well.

Miss Tinline died nearly 10 years ago at the age of 97, none the worse for her rugged experiences, keen and alert until the last. How soft can her succeeding generations get, with their motor cars and buses? Miss Tinline had small, strong feet and came out better than most of those will, who were Ridges bus passengers on Aug. 13, 1952.
